

WANTS WAR DEPARTMENT TO PROBE SLANDER SUIT

MRS. AGNES RANDLE.

Captain's Wife Brings Action Against Colonel of Husband's Regiment

Indianapolis, Ind., March 29.—Louis K. Karns, brother of Mrs. Agnes Karns Randle, who with her husband, Captain Edwin H. Randle, is suing Col. A. L. Conger of Fort Sam Houston, Texas, for $100,000 alleged defamation of character, is on his way to Washington today to lay the entire matter before the war department.

Karns, who lives in Indianapolis, received a special delivery letter from Captain Randle yesterday in which details of the affair were revealed to the family for the first time.

Captain Randle explained in the letter that all his telegrams had been censored by Colonel Conger and requested Karns to ask the War Department authorities to have an examination made of Colonel Conger to determine his mental condition.

The matter will be taken directly to Secretary of War Weeks, Karns said. He said he would insist upon a searching investigation of the whole affair.

Mrs. Randle sued Colonel Conger following a number of controversies between her husband and the colonel.

According to the statement of Captain Randle, which Karns is taking to Washington, the whole affair originated at two parties given at Captain Randle's quarters—one New Year's eve, and the other February 10, this year.

Captain Randle's quarters, the statement says, are one half of a war time hospital building the only other partition between his apartment and that of his neighbor being two thick-nesses of boardwork.

"The guests on both of these occasions," said Captain Randle's letter to Karns, "were officers of my regiment with their wives."

Captain Randle said that an officer and his wife who occupy the other end of the same buildings are not friends of his.

At the instigation of his wife this officer, according to Captain Randle, made an official report to the division inspector that Captain Randle gave frequent parties at his quarters lasting into the night which disturbed him and his family and at which profane language was used.

The officer was questioned by the division inspector, the captain said, and he admitted his only knowledge was "what his wife had told him."

"The officers who were guests of mine," Captain Randle's statement said, "testified that the parties were noisy, with singing and dancing but there was absolutely no profane language used."

PROMINENT FARMER OF GREENE COUNTY SUICIDES THURSDAY

As a result of prolonged ill health and despondency, Euphratus Ruppel, 62, prominent farmer, residing about a mile east of New Jasper on the George Brickel farm, committed suicide, by firing a charge from a shot gun into his heart, Thursday afternoon about 12:30 o'clock, at his home.

Mr. Brickel had been in poor health for some time, and had been unable to complete the tasks on his farm, where he resided along with his wife. Thursday morning he went to the farm of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Louam Ellis, adjoining the Brickel farm, and told Mr. Ellis that he wished him to work upon the Brickel farm, because of his condition. He went to his home a short time later, went up stairs and fired the discharge from the shot gun, with the aid of a curtain pole into his heart, death occurring instantly.

R. L. Haines, of Paintersville, County Coroner, who was called to the Brickel farm, gave a verdict of suicide as the result of despondency.

Mr. Brickel was the son of the late George Brickel, and was well known in the vicinity, residing all of his life on the farm where he died. He is survived by his wife, and six children, Mrs. Foster Ellison, Xenia; Mrs. Ray Gerard near Bowersville; Mrs. Ben Fleming Jamestown; Mrs. Robert Richmond, of Texas; Oscar Brickel, near Jamestown, and Mrs. Louam Ellis, near New Jasper. One brother, James Brickel who resides in Edna, Texas, also survives.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

SUMMON MITCHELL TO RELATE STORY

Philadelphia, Pa., March 29.—Summoning of J. Kearsley Mitchell, son-in-law of Edward T. Stotesbury, to New York, for further questioning Friday regarding his connection with Dorothy Keenan, the Broadway butterfly artist's model, who was murdered, has upset plans of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell to remain in seclusion in their Rittenhouse Square residence here, it was learned from servants today.

SAY GERMANS ARE READY TO SETTLE RUHR SITUATION

Despite Denials Report Persists That Proposals Are Made

London, March 29.—Despite the denial issued in Washington, it was persistently reported in German diplomatic sources today that Berlin has sent a memorandum to Great Britain and the United States, stating that the Germans are willing to settle the Ruhr issue upon the basis of reparations, leaving final adjustment of the amount of reparations to an international commission.

Bonar Law said he did not believe the proposals would be satisfactory to France.

Though he failed definitely to reject them, he indicated that he was unwilling to forward them to Paris.

The German memorandum stated that (despite the recent speech of Chancellor Wilhelm Cuno to the contrary) Germany would not demand evacuation of the Ruhr as a primary condition of settlement. The memorandum did insist, however, that the final settlement provide for the integrity of German territory in accordance with the Versailles treaty and the withdrawal of the French and Belgian troops.

London, March 29.—Former Premier Asquith in the house of commons, denouncing the situation in the Ruhr as most grave and disquieting, demanded that the government turn the light on France's policy. He declared that if France's program was carried out to the end it would mean the creation of a new Alsace-Lorraine, with all that such a result implies.

Asquith branded the Bonar Law policy as one of "benevolent impotence," and insisted that the treaty of Versailles, which provided that there should be no forts on either bank of the Rhine, insured adequate safety for France.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Baldwin, in the absence of Premier Bonar Law, who is suffering from a sore throat, acknowledged "that there has existed during the last few months a profound difference of opinion between the allies and ourselves over the policy which has been adopted in the Ruhr." "The French are singularly unwilling to accept intervention of any kind," added Baldwin. "It is that attitude that so far has prevented a door banged and bolted and barred against ordinary methods of approach, and which has prevented appeals for settlement."

SOLONS CRITICISED.

Cleveland, March 29.—"The Kent normal school issue is an attempt to drag education into politics," said D. C. Willis of Cleveland, chairman of the board of trustees of the Kent school. Willis is one of the trustees who have stood pat for President McGilvrey in the face of the legislative threat to refuse any appropriation. "This is the sort of thing that discourages business men with public service," he said.

COACH SEIBERT RESIGNS.

Toledo, March 29.—Fred Seibert, Jr., manual training teacher and faculty manager of Scott high school since 1915, has resigned, effective at the close of the school year in June.

OPERA STAR PRAISES MUSSOLINI

Yvonne D'Arle and Titta Ruffo.

Titta Ruffo, noted Italian baritone, appearing in San Francisco with Yvonne D'Arle, French soprano, was strong in his praise of Benito Mussolini, Italian Fascist Premier, declaring he is the strong man of the nation and comparable to George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

OUTBREAK OF WARFARE IN KENTUCKY THREATENS

Trouble May Follow Killing of Four Persons When Posse Fires On Barricaded Cabin In Leslie County

Harlan, Ky., March 29.—The danger of an outbreak of the feudal warfare for which these Kentucky hills are famous was apparent everywhere as a result of the killing of four persons, when a "posse" of 22 men opened fire on a barricaded cabin.

One of the dead is a woman. Although the raiders were reported to be in quest of illicit liquor, that explanation is sniffed at by feudists, who learned to hate when they are weakened.

The battle ground was at the mouth of Beach Fork creek, in Leslie County. The county was invaded by the posse from Harlan County, which surrounded the humble cabin and hid behind piles of cordwood.

They called upon the occupants to surrender. The answer was a rifle barrel thrust through a small window, a flash of red flame and the crash of a heavy calibre projectile.

Instantly 22 rifles, some of them heavy 50-75's roared, Ike Strong and his wife, and George Strong, occupants of the stockade, were slain. So was Kelly Walker, one of the "posse-men."

Under a rickety bed in the cabin were huddled the five frightened screaming children of the Strong.

None of them was hit. It was reported, rather proudly among friends of the Strong's that it was Mrs. Strong who fired that challenging shot in defense of her home that provoked the salvo from the invaders.

BERNHARDT FUNERAL MARKED BY SCENES OF UNUSUAL GRIEF

Divine Sarah Buried Thursday — Program is Changed

Paris, March 29.—Amidst almost unprecedented scenes of grief and lamentation, Madame Sarah Bernhardt—the divine Sarah—was buried today. It had been announced that there would be no sermon, no mass and no music, but at the last minute this program was changed. There was a low mass in the Church of St. Francois des Sales which lasted an hour. A funeral chant was sung and an orchestra played "Ave's Death," from Peer Gynt.

The police lines were unable to hold back the enormous crowd which gathered about the church. Persons brushed past the gendarmes and entered the church amidst great confusion. The solemnity of the occasion was marred by the trampling of feet and the scraping of chairs. Men and women crowded close to the catafalque in an effort to see the coffin.

FEDERAL OFFICIALS TO TAKE HAND IN LAW VIOLATIONS

Cincinnati, O., March 29.—Federal officials are expected to take a hand in the inquiry regarding alleged wholesale law violations in Pike County.

While the Ohio legislature was perusing a report that "crookedness" existed in both parties in that county, and retaining Robert S. Wynn, Democrat, rather than seating Harry L. Foster, Republican in the house of representatives, agents of the U. S. district attorney, Thomas H. Morrow, were found to have been at work on clues said to indicate that vote selling had been a fine art in Waverly and the outlying districts of Pike county, at least in the 1922 election.

Reports from Waverly stated that two former private detectives from Cincinnati had been employed by the plaintiffs counsel to take documentary evidence from the safe of a Democratic leader.

The case involves alleged irregularities in use of absentee voters ballots.

FIRE SWEEPS RESORT

TAX MEASURES ARE PASSED BY STATE SENATE

Taft, Albaugh and Robison Bills Put Through In Quick Order

BEFORE GOVERNOR

Columbus, March 29.—The House today passed the Taft Bill, to limit the borrowing of money by board of education, without vote of the people and to provide for the funding of existing indebtedness on July 1, 1923, by a vote of 98 to 2. The measure now goes to the Senate.

The House also passed the Carpenter bill, requiring insurance companies to file annually a sworn statement of their financial condition, and the Garver bill, to permit boards of education on vote of the people to issue bonds to replace school buildings condemned by the Department of Industrial Relations. The two bills now go to Governor Donahue.

Columbus, March 29.—The Taft tax bill, and its companion measures, the Albaugh and Robison bills, passed the senate and are now before the governor. They had been previously approved by the house.

The Taft measure recodifies the present tax laws and raises the limitation to 17 mills in cities and villages municipalities; the Albaugh bill provides for a county tax board and appointive tax assessors to take the place of the present elective ward and township assessors, and the Robison bill increases the penalty for failure to list property for taxation.

But four dissenting votes were cast against the Taft bill, those of Senators Briggs, Ferguson, Adair and Garver, all Democrats.

A bill authorizing the governor to appoint a board of seven trustees for Kent Normal school is expected to be introduced in the House today. Supporters of the proposed measure seek to oust Dr. McGilvrey from the presidency of that school. The proposed new board would supplant the present membership which is sticking to President McGilvrey.

The Senate finance committee is expected to report favorably today or Friday, the Blossom bill, authorizing changes recommended by Governor Donahue, to be made in plans for the proposed penitentiary in Madison County. The bill passed the house. The Senate concurred in the action of the House which amended the Senate resolution so as to provide for legislative recess of three weeks, starting April 6.

By a bill passed by the house women prisoners who are unable to pay fines in misdemeanor cases may be sent to the Ohio reformatory at Marysville. Men prisoners may be placed at work for the county at a rate of not less than $1.50 a day and charged for board, tools and transportation expenses. Neither men nor women may be released by county commissioners unless the prosecuting attorney and trial judges agree.

The senate by a vote of 24 to 7 refused to authorize an inquiry into conditions relating to highway construction. The principal argument by the Republicans was to the effect that the object of the Democratic senators in pressing action on the resolution was to investigate the director of highways, a Davis holdover appointee. Three of the affirmative votes were cast by Republicans. They were Gifford, author of the resolution; Bender of Cleveland and Burke of Elyria.

Parochial School Bill Killed. The bill of Representative Charles Brenner of Cuyahoga county, barring private and parochial schools and requiring all children from 6 to 16 years of age to attend public schools, was killed by the house schools committee.

Women members of the house lost their fight against lowering the age limit for child labor, and the Bloom bill, which permits children from 12 to 14 years old to work in agricultural pursuits seven hours a day and 42 hours a week, was passed. Mrs. Van Wye, Cincinnati representative, sponsored an amendment making the minimum 14 instead of 12 years, but it was voted down. The Bloom bill also provides that school certificates are unnecessary during vacation.

The house committee on labor recommended for passage the bill by Representative Reberman of Cincinnati, and backed by both organized labor and employers, increasing awards under the workmen's compensation act. The committee also recommended for passage the joint resolution, also introduced by Reberman, proposing a constitutional amendment to abolish the "open liability" clause and permit, instead of letting injured employees have recourse to the courts, the industrial commission to increase the awards when death or injury results from failure of employer to comply with the lawful requirements as to safe-guarding employees.

POLICE LOOING FOR POISONERS OF DOGS IN CITY

Police are looking for another "meanest man" or maybe it is a woman. He or she is the person who has been poisoning dogs all over the city.

Reports at Police Headquarters show that at least a dozen dogs have been poisoned in Xenia since last Sunday. Many of them have been family pets and canines of considerable value.

The majority of the canines that have been poisoned were the property of north end residents. One or two of them have been discovered in time to permit the owner to administer an antidote and save the animal.

On the basis that the dog is "man's best friend," owners of the dogs poisoned maintain that the poisoner gets the "meanest person" title.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF DAUGHERTY BRINGS FORTH CRITICISM

Anti-Attorney General Faction Scores Act as Not Timely.

St. Augustine, Fla., March 29.—President Harding's vacation party has been enlivened in its closing stages by an acrimonious dispute between some of his political advisers, over the now famous Daugherty announcement of the Harding candidacy in 1924. The end of the row did not appear in sight today. The dispute within the Republican family circle is not over the accuracy of the attorney general's pronouncement, for all factions are agreed that the president will be a candidate to succeed himself; it concerns solely the political strategy of making such an important announcement at this time, a year before the primaries.

Friends of the attorney general take the position that the announcement at this time affords a much needed clarification of the political atmosphere, which already was beginning to cloud up with a half dozen incipient presidential booms getting under way within the president's own party. They contend, too, that no harm can result from publicly stating something that all of them recognize privately, that Mr. Harding will accept a renomination at the hands of the next Republican national convention.

Those unfriendly to the attorney general, and some of this opposition dates back to the Harding pre-convention campaign—characterize the Daugherty announcement as "a gross political blunder," and "political strategy of the worst sort." From now on, they contend, the President is a candidate and his every executive act will be taxed with that brush. Furthermore, they contend, when the President makes his swing around the West, this summer, he will appear as a candidate seeking re-election rather than a President of the United States making a perfectly proper observation tour of the vast country over which he holds executive sway, all because of the Daugherty announcement.

CHARGE ATTEMPT TO INFLUENCE VOTE

Sandusky, March 29.—Charges that an effort was made to influence his vote in the matter of the purchase of truck for city use were made today by City Commissioner J. Frank Donahue, who declared that a Sandusky man had offered him "whiskey and champagne and more when it's gone," if he would favor the type of truck he recommended.

Donahue promises to "tell an interesting story" in investigations both city and county authorities promise immediately.

SCHOONER AGROUND.

Boston, Mass., March 29.—An unidentified five masted schooner was aground at Chatham today. She is said to carry a crew of fifteen men. The coast guard cutter Acushnet has gone to her assistance. A forty-two mile wind is blowing and the vessel is believed to be going to pieces.

NINETY HOUSES ARE DESTROYED IN NEW ENGLAND

Mile of Nantasket Beach Laid Waste in Conflagration Wednesday Night

SEVEN ARE INJURED

Loss Caused by Blaze is

Estimated at Close to
Million Dollars

Boston, Mass., March 29.—About a mile of Nantasket Beach, a great summer resort for New England people, was laid waste last night and early today by the most disastrous fire in the history of the beach. About ninety houses were destroyed, seven persons injured and about 150 made homeless by the conflagration. Damage is estimated at $1,000,000.

The flames were visible for miles and drew many spectators despite the cold. The flames were fanned by a northwest wind accompanied by intense cold. Low water pressure also handicapped the firemen. Aid was summoned from Boston and other places.

The flames started in the palm gardens at the park and quickly spread. Infantry from Fort Revere state constabulary and a detail of metropolitan police were rushed to the scene and assisted in handling the large crowd and caring for the homeless. The Salvation army furnished coffee for the firemen and the homeless.

None of the big hotels nor the five steamships of the Nantasket Beach line were damaged. About 50 men, women and children with all their belongings lost were cared for at the rectory of St. Mary's of the Assumption Church. The police station was completely destroyed.

LOBBYISTS SCORED BY SENATOR BURKE IN AN INTERVIEW

May be Candidate for Governor's Chair in Another Year.

Columbus, March 29.—"Truth and justice compel me to say that there has been no legislation enacted during the present session of the Ohio legislature—in fact none has passed the Senate—which was opposed by any of the lobbyists of privilege, who swarmed the State House with much more potency than they did two years ago," declared State Senator J. F. Burke, Elyria, today.

Senator Burke indicated that he may comply with the requests of his friends that as a progressive Republican he become a candidate for the G. O. P. gubernatorial nomination next year.

Whether the Republican party is of the people by the politicians for privilege, or whether it is of, by and for the people themselves, will be the issue in the next Republican Ohio campaign, Senator Burke believes.

Believing that "in all human probability," President Harding will be renominated, Senator Burke today voiced the opinion that it would be fit, wise and expedient if the president would become a potent factor in determining that the principles of "efficiency and not party organization, a living wage law for the women of Ohio and governmental service to all the people," shall prevail in deciding the party's choice for important offices in the state."

GIRL TO WED AN EARL.

London, March 29.—Jessica Brown left for home on the Olympic to prepare for her marriage with the Earl of Northesk. Before leaving she emphatically denied reports from New York that she was married to a Spanish nobleman in 1918. The Earl of Northesk escorted her from the Waterloo station to the boat train, where he kissed her farewell promising to see her in New York within a month. The young peer reiterated his determination to marry the American girl despite strong parental objections, and said that nothing would be able to keep them apart.

SIXTY-MILE GALE SWEEPS NEW YORK

New York, March 29.—New York today was in the icy clutch of the coldest March weather on record and a 60-mile gale made it seem colder. The thermometer fell to the low level at six o'clock this morning, when it reached nine above zero, a drop of 27 degrees from 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The previous low record for March was 19 degrees, established March 28, 1873.

Northern New York reported snow and the cold wave extended into New England and west into Indian and Ohio. With the passing of the tide was forecast.

LOYD GEORGE "STOCK" AGAIN TAKES A JUMP

London, March 29.—Keep an eye on Lloyd George.

That is the advice that is now going around in the wise political circles in London.

Since the little Welshman left No. 10 Downing Street his stock has fluctuated wildly. At one time they were placing bets that he would be back in office within six months; later everyone predicted that "Lloyd George is through." Now his stock is on the upward trend again.

Everyone expects that Lloyd George is going to stage a miracle that will put him back in power.

Meanwhile the redoubtable little politician holds his silence. "I feel like the boy who has just been birched and is getting a little consolation out of standing by and watching the next victim getting his taste of the rod and getting it in very strong doses," Lloyd George said, when he had been more or less pressed in the hope that he might disclose his future plans.

The ex-premier smiled and let his remark sink in and then added: "I have been enjoying myself thoroughly." He smiled again, his eyes twinkled, and the vigor that seemed so apparent, the spirit back of those twinkling eyes all seemed to predict that the ex-premier does not intend to always be an "ex."

Lloyd George is just in his prime. His vacation from office has given him opportunity to rest and restore his jaded nerves. He is far from a defeated man. He rather impresses one as a man who is merely marking time waiting for the psychological moment preparatory to jumping into the fight again.

Bonar Law's Government has met with difficulties. Its future seems uncertain to say the least. The English public opinion is veering and shifting, and when it settles down to a steady blow there are probabilities that it will not blow in the Bonar law direction. Bonar Law has not had "Peace and tranquillity." His regime has been one of great nervousness for the people. His foreign policy has not been as disturbing as the domestic policy. President cartooning of Bonar Law asleep has had its effect upon the people, despite the fact that Law has been a hard worker, but his work has been chiefly study.

There are many who believe that the English people have been educated up to an appreciation of spectacles and fireworks, and that they miss these fireworks in the Bonar Law administration. If they do there is only one English statesman who can furnish them with the necessary pyrotechnics, and that is Lloyd George. "Keep an eye on Lloyd George" is excellent advice.

HELD ON CHARGE

Ora Johnson, 45, was arrested at Spring Valley Wednesday night by Deputy Sheriffs John Baughn and George Spencer and is being held for Hamilton authorities.

A warrant for the arrest of Johnson on a charge of removing mortgaged property from Butler County was received Wednesday. Johnson is being held in the County Jail here awaiting the arrival of Butler County authorities.

MAN REPORTED SLATED FOR JOB

Haveth Mau, former prosecuting attorney of Montgomery County is said to be slated for appointment as first assistant to United States District Attorney, B. W. Hough.

Mau was mentioned for the district attorneyship before Judge Hough was appointed.

There will be three assistants on the staff and as Judge Hough will make his headquarters in Columbus, Mau if appointed, will probably have charge of the Cincinnati office.

Two Cincinnati attorneys, Robert Kramer, who served with Judge Hough when the latter was Colonel of the Rainbow Division overseas and A. Lee Beatty, who has the backing of the Hamilton County Republican organization, are slated for the positions of second and third assistants.

The Rev. Mr. McBride preaches the word of God, justification, sanctification, divine healing and the second coming of Christ. His books will be on sale during his meetings here.

SPRING RUSH TO YUKON IS BEGUN

Dawson City, Yukon, Mar. 29.—The Spring rush for the Yukon started March 22 with the thawing out of the ice and snow here.

The overland trail from White Horse and Mayo, famous in the annals of the gold country, was lined with horse and dog teams. The "mushers" were bound northward to the White Pass shipyards, which are operating at full blast repairing the Upper Yukon River flotilla. A ten-ton caterpillar tractor with three trailers, hauling five tons of freight each, have started over the trail from White Horse to Mayo, a distance of 300 miles, the first of its kind ever undertaken over the Yukon snows.

So many individual silver claims are producing more than paying ore in Keno Hill that every able-bodied man who could crowd a horse, dog team, automobile or sleigh into service is rushing toward Mayo to be on hand when the snows thaw. It was expected that 8,000 tons would be transported by April 1.

CHICAGOANS PLAN FARM TO HARBOR CRIMINAL INSANE

Chicago, March 29.—Segregation of criminal defectives of Illinois will soon be accomplished, the opinion of Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Chicago Municipal Court.

Justice Olson has worked long for legislation which would provide for the removal of persons found to be mentally abnormal and whose presence is a menace to society.

If plans evolved by Justice Olson and incorporated in a measure to be presented to the State Legislature are realized, the State will provide a farm comprised of 1,000 acres, to be located near Chicago, where the criminal defectives of the State will be isolated. The "farm," according to plans of the originator of the scheme, would be made as homelike as possible. Cottages would be provided for the segregated persons. All relatives would be given free access to the colony. The farm would be operated by the inmates. They would be kept busy at all times.

No effort will be made at this time, according to Justice Olson, to provide for sterilization of persons found criminally defective. He does advocate, however, amendment of the marriage laws of the State to prevent defectives from marrying.

In charge of the farm would be a physician skilled in treatment of mental disorders. All inmates would be afforded the best of medical attention at all times under the Olson plan.

Such inmates as might regain mental normalcy would be released from the farm thereupon.

Expense of maintaining the farm would be shared by the several counties of the State. The direct upkeep cost would be met by the State under the Chicagoan's plan. Clothing, transportation and incidental costs to be paid by the county from which the inmate was committed.

Officers of the law throughout the State would be authorized under the Olson proposal to hold without warrant any person escaped from the farm.

That the measure incorporating his segregation farm plan will be passed, Justice Olson is confident. A similar measure was adopted two years ago by the State with only two dissenting votes. It was vetoed by the Governor, however, for reason of failure to provide for a segregation farm.

Women's clubs and other civic organizations here devoted to public welfare are said to have heartily endorsed the Olson plan.

SPRING VALLEY

A union Easter Cantata under the leadership of Mr. William Copey will be given in the Methodist Church Sunday evening.

The Junior class of the High School will hold a box social Friday evening.

The Senior class play given last Friday evening was a decided success.

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Mason and two children and Mr. and Mrs. Herschell Carey of Dayton, were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mason.

Mr. and Mrs. Lacy of Wilmington, were guests Sunday of Mrs. Mattie Truman.

The annual Easter Market will be held in the Town Hall Saturday evening.

Complimenting Miss Eva Smith, of near Spring Valley, whose marriage to Mr. Lee Engle, of near here, will take place during March, Mrs. Herman Blair, and Mrs. Max Barnard entertained at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Herman Blair, Wednesday evening.

An advertising contest and picnic test were amusing features of the evening's entertainment. The guests were later invited into the dining room, where the presents received by the honor guest were displayed and a refreshment course served.

ANNUAL REPORTS GIVEN AT MISSIONARY MEETING

The March meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First United Presbyterian Church was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edwin Galloway on North Galloway Street.

Mrs. J. Harvey Nash, vice-president, presided at the meeting, the devotional exercises being in charge of Mrs. J. Carl Marshall, assisted by Mrs. M. A. Hagler.

The February reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and received as correct. Twenty-one members responded to the roll call with temperance items, selected by the temperance secretary, Mrs. J. G. Dixon.

The annual reports of the society featured the meeting, showing a successful season of work for the society during the past year. Mrs. C. H. Ervin, recording secretary, gave an interesting report of the work accomplished during the year. Among the unusual items reported by Mrs. Ervin was that not a death had occurred in the society's ranks, two members, Mrs. D. L. Addis and Mrs. Morton Dallas have died. Mrs. C. H. Ervin and Miss M. A. Carruthers had attended every meeting of the organization during the year. The treasurer, Mrs. M. A. Hagler gave an itemized report of the money received and disbursed, amounting to $850. Mrs. Emma McCalmont, thank offering secretary, and Mrs. Edwin Galloway, literary secretary, gave satisfactory reports. The Martin Pinney fund, money paid by the Xenia Presbyterian to support two foreign missionaries was reported by Mrs. E. C. Moorman. Mrs. Carl Marshall, secretary of the Junior work reported $132 received by that department during the year.

Mrs. E. H. Carruthers, publicity secretary presented her report.

The meeting adjourned with the Lord's prayer. A social time was enjoyed, masses of flowers giving a spring touch to the rooms of the Galloway home. Mrs. Galloway was assisted by Mrs. Adda Bailey, Mrs. M. A. Hagler and Mrs. Luella Jackson.

MARRIAGE SOLEMNIZED WEDNESDAY EVENING

The marriage of Miss Almada E. Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Allen of 319 West Third Street, and Mr. Alfred H. Schramm, of Wilmington, was solemnized at the parsonage of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock, the Rev. G. A. Scott officiating.

The couple was unattended, the simple ring ceremony being used. The bride's costume was of taupe her coat, dress hat and footwear being of the same shade.

Following their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Schramm left for a short wedding trip, and upon their return will go to housekeeping in Wilmington, where Mr. Schramm is engaged as a jeweler and optician.

Mrs. Schramm's marriage is of interest to a large circle of friends in the city, where she is well known. Until her marriage she has been employed as bookkeeper at the wholesale grocery firm of H. E. Schmidt.

MAKE PLANS AT MISSIONARY MEETING.

Arrangements for the annual congregational dinner, of the First Reformed Church, to be held next week, were laid at the all-day meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of that church, held in the church parlors, Tuesday. Other business transacted at the meeting included plans for the general synod to be held next May. About 65 women attended the meeting, spending the day sewing for the Social Service League. A delicious covered dish dinner was served at noon.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Members of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian Church, were entertained at the home of Mrs. John Prugh, on North Galloway Street, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Paul D. Espey, Mrs. J. W. Santmyer, and Miss Margaret Clark assisted Mrs. Prugh in the entertainment of her guests.

Mr. Thomas E. Cummings, of West Second Street, suffered an attack of heart failure, Thursday morning, and his condition is thought to be serious.

Miss Ella Ambuhl and Miss Faye Cavanaugh went to Columbus Tuesday, where they attended the lecture on "Democracy and Education" given by Dallas Lore Sharp of Boston University, who spoke at the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium under the auspices of the English Club of Columbus. Miss Ambuhl and Miss Cavanaugh are both members of the Columbus Club.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darks the hair beautifully besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

TABER GIVES TALK BEFORE BELLBROOK GRANGE MEMBERS

L. J. Taber, of Columbus and Barnesville, former state secretary of agriculture, former State Grange Master and now vice president and traveling manager of the Ohio-Pennsylvania Farm Loan Bank, gave an interesting address at the meeting of Bellbrook Grange Tuesday evening.

The meeting was to have been addressed by Mrs. Lulu Vandenberg, of Zanesville wife of the state grange secretary, but when she was unable to attend she asked Mr. Taber to take her place. A large crowd of Bellbrook members as well as visitors from other Granges attended the meeting.

Mr. Taber told the Grangers present that he realized more than ever the difficulty in making money farming now, and declared that every month he had to take money out of his salary to balance his farm accounts. He operates fine dairy farm at his home near Barnesville.

Under the head of bettering agriculture, Mr. Taber brought out five distinct points. The first he said is the problem of wise production. He pointed out that farmers should be careful not to raise products they are not fitted to cultivate, a situation which occurs in many parts of the state he said.

His second point was the problem of orderly marketing in which he pointed out the necessity of a good system in farmers getting their product before the consumer.

The proper financing of farm business, he said, is a third point. He pointed out that the federal reserve banking system is the greatest financial system ever instituted, but that the fact that farmers are in the midst of their greatest depression, showed that this system did not reach the farmers. The farm loan bank system alleviates this condition he said.

The conservation of waste is a fourth point, said the speaker. He pointed out the millions of acres of land in southern Ohio which he said the Lord never intended should be farmed, but which farmers are trying to cultivate without success. This land should be planted in trees he said, and declared that he considered with pride his success while director of agriculture in causing to be set aside a great amount of land for reforestation.

Mr. Taber's last point was taxation and the reduction of government costs. The question is a simple and easy one he said, but politicians and wealthy people will not let it be so. Years ago, the speaker said, practically all wealth was represented in land, and its taxation was fair and equitable. Now he said land only represents 47 per cent of the wealth but it pays 90 per cent of the taxes. Mr. Taber who has been a great exponent of the income tax, illustrated with the story of Jackie Coogan, the boy movie star, drawing $500,000 a year. In closing Mr. Taber urged the banding together of farmers to help work out these problems.

HARDING MAY ATTEND.

STOP DISEASE BEFORE IT STARTS

Most contagious diseases gain entrance through the mouth and throat.

Here hide the disease germs that wait for a chance to spread their ravaging coughs, colds, flu, pneumonia, bronchitis.

To avoid such disease many authorities advise a simple antiseptic mouth rinse used daily, made of an effective substance such as Denta Caps, which anyone can get from any good druggist.

Simply a capsule in warm water and make an antiseptic mouth rinse

THE SUGAR PANIC.

Secretary Hoover says there is no actual shortage of sugar. Some of the sugar lords studying the Cuban crop prospects and the world situation agree with him. The Department of Commerce says the world will have an actual surplus of 476,000 tons this year, less than one-third of its recent carry-overs, but enough to check any buyer's panic.

Nevertheless, there is a panic, and sugar is walking up toward war prices. Housewives are paying nine, ten and even more cents per pound for sugar. Sugar hoarders are starting to hoard, spurred on in some instances by the retailers. Everything is all set for a run-away market.

Why? There are several reasons. Yes, the tariff is one of them. Disagreement among the sugar prophets over the possible or probable shortage is another. The matter goes deeper, however, than the tariff or the clash of the prophets.

It is a fact that for two years sugar interests have been muttering that prices were too low. There has been a "build up" for an increase under way a long time. The whispering campaign that has produced a temporary sugar shortage began some time in 1922. Sugar folk were churning higher prices as 1922 ended. In January, 1923, predictions of shortage were plentiful. The stage was being set.

On February 9 the break the gamblers were waiting for came. A misleading, easily misread Department of Commerce statement gave the impression that world demand would call for 725,000 tons more of raw sugar than were in sight. Straightway the heavy users of sugar, including the candy and confectionery interests, panicked all over the place. They hit the market with all the money they could scrape to take care of their summer requirements.

It is easy to spread a panic. The sugar gamblers leaped to it. They had the herd of buyers on the run and they have kept them there. In a few days the panic had swept through the big buyers, the wholesalers, jobbers and retailers to the consumer. The housewife began buying and the laws of available supply and panicky demand began working overtime. The prices went rocketing and sky-hooting.

The new tariff helped as a kind of a smoke screen for the drive. In trying to take care of American sugar interests in Cuba and his beet-growing folk out West, Senator Smoot had cut the corners a bit sharply. This also helped the merry gamblers when they reached for the sugar supply and shot prices toward the blue empyrean.

However, the panic is slowing down. The public is "on." Prices have sagged a little. Claus Spreckels, who knows a thing or so about sugar, has warned that all the sugar industry can do is to explain prices, as it cannot justify them. The gamblers will do well to listen.—Public Ledger.

CHILDREN TO ROLL EGGS EASTER MONDAY AT WHITE HOUSE, THOUGH HARDING IS AWAY

Despite the absence of President Harding and Mrs. Harding, there will be no interference this year with the annual Easter Monday egg-rolling on the White House lawn. Announcement was made that all children under ten years old would be admitted to the south inclosure that day and that adults would be barred unless accompanied by a youngster of the proper age.

Easter Monday is children's day in fact. It usually looks as if all the children in Washington and a considerable number of visitors were heading for the White House if rain doesn't spoil the fun.

In recent years the police have had to detail extra men to keep the streets about the White House clear and prevent automobile accidents.

Another duty which has fallen on the officers since the number of children has become so great is to see that adults without proper credentials didn't get in and crowd the children out.

Due to that, some of the smarter boys have found Easter Monday an extremely profitable source of revenue. By making headquarters near the White House, they have been able to conduct several sets of parents or relatives into the grounds at so much a parent or relative, until their frequent appearance with new kinfolk impressed itself on the guard.

Right after the Harding regime began, when the White House had been forbidden territory for so long, the premium which these youngsters were able to collect ran as high as fifty cents a person, which made the day's work exceedingly profitable.

THE BANDIT PROBLEM.

The bandits who rob banks and payrolls and hold up jewelers in bright daylight are not confined to the movies. The cities are full of them today. Hardly a paper can be opened without an account of some such daring robbery. It makes the reader wonder whether all the civic authorities are asleep, or busy playing politics.

But there are other considerations. These bandits are almost all young. Their ages seem to range from nineteen through the early twenties. Most of them are due for lives of crime, with vacations in penal institutions in between depredations.

The schools, of course, have something to answer for, in that they did not make honest work sufficiently interesting, and did not provide a wholesome respect for discipline.

But back of the schools, for six years, the mothers reigned over the souls of these boys. The foundations of discipline, of self-control, of co-operating with others for the common good, of despising cruelty and dishonesty, are laid in these years. This may seem an exaggeration, but ask any psychologist—observe with the seeing eye the children of your own neighborhood.

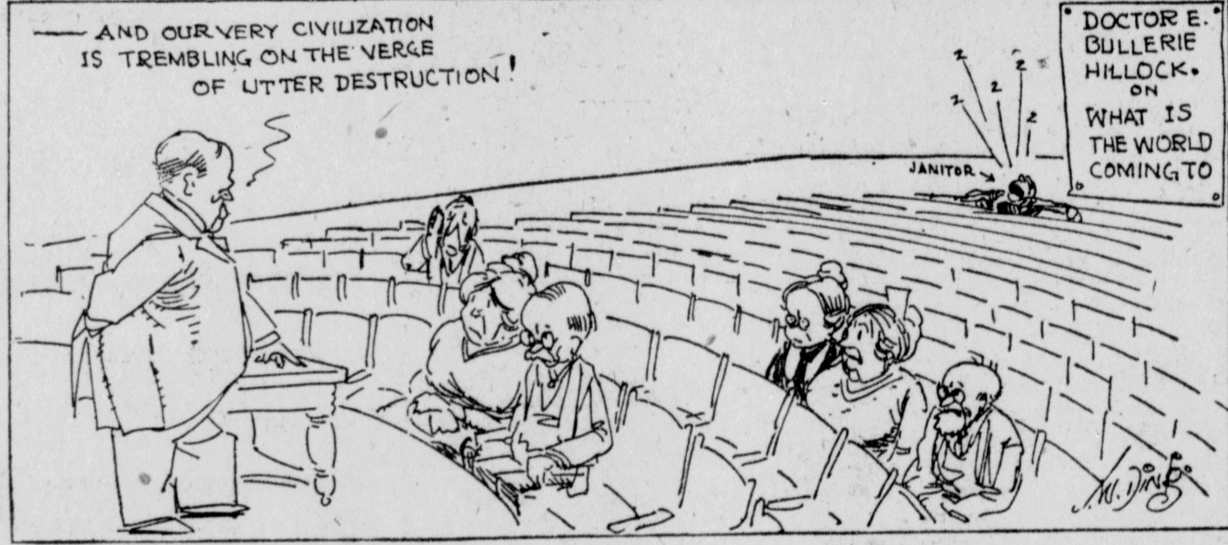

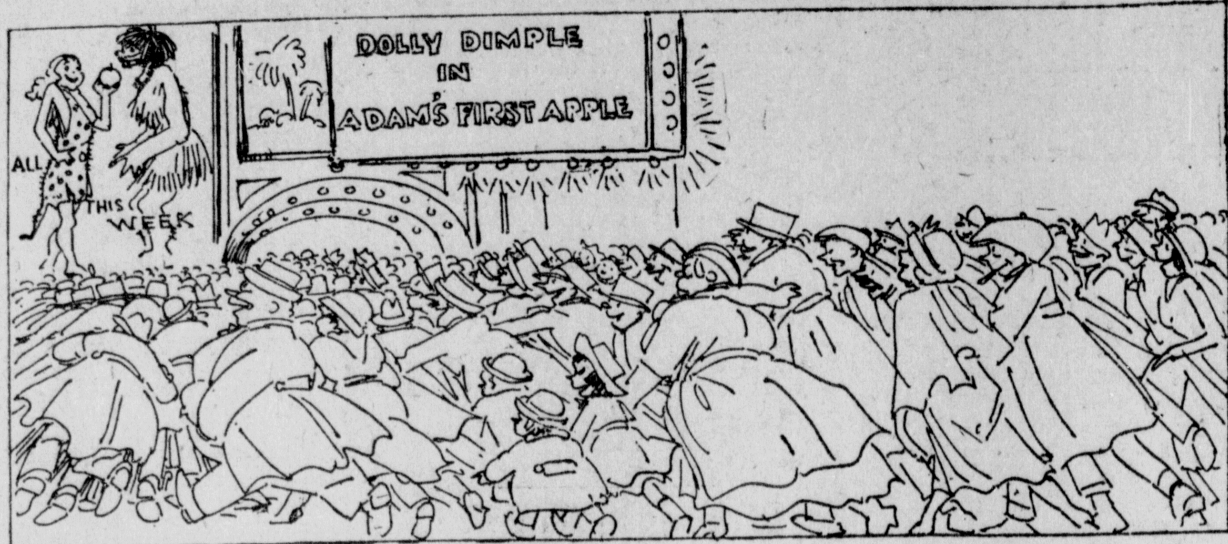

Were these mothers too overworked to pay any attention to the moral development of their children. If so, society is somewhat to blame. Society means everybody.

Catching these lads and imprisoning them isn't going to cure the evil. Something has got to be done to prevent the growth of the next crop.

IN BLEEDING KANSAS.

"I have seen Kansas so dry," says T. A. McNeal, author of "When Kansas Was Young," that you had to prime the mourners at a funeral to make them weep. I have seen it so wet the ducks wired in the prairies and the water backed up against the barbed wire fences. I have seen it so cold that Greenland had nothing on us. I have seen it so hot that evangelists were unable to work up any enthusiasm telling of the fiery regions below. If all the wheat grown in Kansas since it achieved statehood were ground into flour and made into doughnuts, the 10,000,000 negroes in this country could stand in the hole in the center and by the time they had eaten their way out the race problem would be solved."

WONDER IF EINSTEIN'S THEORY OF RELATIVITY CAN EXPLAIN THIS?

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

The regular daily circulation of the Xenia Gazette is now nearly 2400 and the tide is rising fast. There is rarely a day or a week that it has not made some gain.

Mr. Ernest Schmidt is home from Gambier for his Easter vacation.

One of the most interesting exhibits ever made in Xenia will be presented to the public for three days at the Conwell hardware store, where carriages, surreys, phaetons, etc., will be shown.

There are now one hundred vehicles at the store.

About the busiest place imaginable just now is at the overhead bridge of the Pan Handle on Detroit Street. There are two stationary engines and derricks being put up to move the heavy stone and iron beams. The workmen must remove the old bridge and put in a new one and at the same time the street below must not be blocked and there must be no delay of trains.

Fashion papers have recently been saying that the slim, flat boyish figure is going out of favor. Slim my lady must be to wear the newest styles, but with well rounded bust and hips. The recent excitement over the discovery at Luxor of the treasures of Tutankhamen, will have its effect on fashions and therefore on figures, for figures are made to fit the clothes nowadays. A few Parisian designers indeed, are already playing up the Egyptian motif. Pillowy, floating draperies with heavy jeweled ornaments for contrast require a well developed figure.

So no doubt the woman who has tried conscientiously to suppress the fact that she possessed a bust will now wonder whether drinking malt and taking exercises will not give her greater roundness. It probably will, so here are a few suggestions.

Lie down with the head slightly lower than the body, raise the arms and breathe in slowly and steadily and as fully as possible. Lower the arms sideways, at the same time breathing out slowly. Close the hands and bring them to a point immediately in front of the arm pits. You will feel this over all the muscles of the chest and bust. Repeat a dozen times.

While still lying in this position raise the arms as high as possible then move them back over the head, keeping the elbows straight and clasping the hands. Inhale while doing this and exhale as the arms are brought back to their first position. Repeat a dozen times.

Three times a week bathe the bust with very warm water and massage gently but thoroughly with olive oil or warm cocoa butter. This should be done at night and the bust bathed in the morning with cold water. Fatening drinks also help.

G. B.—As you are so many pounds under-weight you probably need building up. This would account for the poor quality of your hair and the fallow skin. It would be best to have your doctor prescribe for you but you can help yourself also by eating such foods as will nourish you without taxing the digestion. If olive oil

Paris City of Venders; Hundreds Swarm Streets

Paris, March 27.—Paris is a city of street vendors.

From the little merchants, with or without stands or cards, almost anything from risqué pictures to classical books and canary birds may be purchased.

Most numerous of all the vendors, however, are the vegetable merchants both men and women, who early every morning, in all seasons, may be seen pushing or pulling their carts loaded with vegetables to their appointed places.

Girls With "Knees Out" Barred as Teachers in Defiance, O., Schools

Defiance, Ohio, March 27.—"No girl with her knees sticking out below her dresses need apply to me to teach," declared County School Superintendent William L. Manahan, addressing a joint meeting of school board members of Defiance County. Superintendent Manahan said he favors dress reform among the teaching staff.

CRUTCHES AND MASKS

Most of us wear "false faces," and conceal under our arms a perfectly balanced pair of well seasoned crutches—invisible, of course, but nevertheless looked upon as quite dependable.

It is the exception to meet a frank person, one who speaks right into your eyes and who is honest in this expression.

And yet how much nearer you get to such a one. You immediately step up just a little closer that you may miss nothing from such a mind.

It doesn't take much to melt away the veneer from the average poseur. And he who carries crutches gets them knocked from under him all too soon.

For the fact of life is that we are all the time telegraphing Fate to our outcome by what we are—be that honest or assumed.

The "painted lady" would look a transformed human being in kitchen garb, washing dishes! The bricklayer, the scrub woman, the fighter in the first line, wear no masks, need no crutches. They are what they are.

The Rich Young Ruler who became fascinated with the personality of Christ, could not deceive this great student of human nature. Go back, said He, sell all that you have and then come back and you will be ready to become a partner in service with Me.

You see the Rich Young Ruler wore the false face of Money Love.

He who stands upon his own legs

needs to ask odds of no man. You admire that strong man? He wears no mask. He has no crutches. Be yourself—and be proud of the fact. You have a personality that was meant to be developed. It's the one thing that you cannot borrow from anyone or anywhere. And what you are, it has made you.

Plan Paris Theater for English-Speaking Stage

Paris, March 27.—Americans and Englishmen in Paris will soon be able to attend plays produced in their native tongue if the project of establishing a permanent English theater can be worked out.

Edwin R. Wolfe, director of the "Six Americans" Company, which recently produced "Her Husband's Wife," is encouraging interest in the project.

BAKERS HELD PROFITEERS

Paris, March 26.—Fourteen master bakers were held for trial today on a charge of organizing last December to force up the price of bread. The defendants include officers of the Master Bakers' Association, which staged the short-lived strike which ended when the government began to establish army bake shops in Paris and the population broke a few windows of the bakeries.

THAT is all we do—examine eyes and make glasses—but we do it right. May we have the pleasure of serving you—when in need of our services.

DR. FESS RELATES HIS EXPERIENCES IN U. S. CONGRESS

Personal experiences and an interesting explanation of the operation of both houses of Congress, were given by Senator S. D. Fess of Yellow Springs in his address to Masonic Club members Wednesday evening in the Masonic lodge rooms.

Senator Fess talked on the subject "Ten Years in Congress," and his address was more or less of a personal nature, dealing with the manner of procedure of the legislators, interspersed with many interesting sidelights on some of the leaders of both parties in the national bodies.

The now-famous "blocc system" was explained interestingly to the Masons by Ohio's west Senator, who told what the system meant in Congress, and its origin. The name, he said, was created by a newspaper, and was from then on continually applied to the different so-called "bloccs" among the legislators. Personal sidelights on Uncle Joe Cannon and other celebrities added an interesting touch to Dr. Fess' remarks.

Senator Fess did not refer at the meeting to the investigation of an anonymous letter which he received, and which he is attempting to trace to earth through the postal department. He touched slightly on Americanism in his closing remarks. No reference was made to the letter addressed to Dr. Fess by Governor Al Smith of New York, which the Senator said Thursday he had not yet received.

Senator Fess was introduced by Dr. A. C. Messenger president of the club, who acted as chairman of the meeting and who also introduced George Little, chairman of the finance committee of the Masonic Temple Association and A. E. Faulkner president of that Association, who talked briefly concerning the proposed temple and plans for financing it.

The addresses followed a chicken dinner served by Jacob Kany the club chef to an unusually large attendance. Members of the club, including new members taken in Wednesday evening numbered about 250 at the gathering. Preceding the dinner an informal reception was held for Senator Fess in the lodge parlors.

TALKS ON WORK IN COURT HOUSE BEFORE GRANGE

Clerk of Courts Harvey Elam gave an interesting explanation of the operation of his office in the Court House at the meeting of the Pomona Grange, held in Charity Grange Hall, on the Dayton and Xenia pike, Wednesday.

The meeting was well attended, and opened with a business session in the morning, which included the exemplification of the fifth degree on 29 candidates, the degree work being put on by officers of Pomona Grange. Mr. Elam's address was the feature of the program after dinner.

Divorce cases occupy a large proportion of the legal business which burdens the docket in the Clerk's office.

FOR MOTHERS!

This Letter is of Vital Interest to You

Cambridge, Ohio—"During expectancy I was almost a physical wreck. I was nervous, could not sleep, suffered with nausea, or sick stomach, had backaches, pains in my side and bearing down. I was so near down that I could not do anything. Finally I decided to give Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a trial. I had taken this medicine only a few days when I could see that my nerves were better, and by the time I had taken two bottles I felt as well as anyone could wish to be, did all my work and felt well and strong the remainder of the time. I had comparatively no suffering—was ill just a short time and I had a very fine healthy baby weighing nine pounds. The expectant mother will find 'Favorite Prescription' a great help in many ways."—Mrs. Milton Tipton, 707 S. 10th St.

fice. He gave many amusing incidents that came up in this connection and explained the jury system and how the juries were drawn.

An appeal to people to respond to the call for jury duty and not attempt to shirk this service, was also included in Mr. Elam's address. In concluding he also made an appeal for law and order, alleging that there does not seem to be the respect for law that there used to be and urging more earnest recognition of the statutes.

Mr. Elam's address took the place of the scheduled talk by Mrs. Lulu Vanderbark of Zanesville, wife of the state grange secretary, who was unable to be present.

The afternoon program also included readings and music and a discussion of the schools and the fair exhibit.

A committee headed by S. H. Shawhan, of Beaver Grange, and including John Short, of Xenia Grange and Albert Jones of Caesarscreek Grange, will attempt to swing all farm organizations in the County together for one big picnic instead of the numerous small picnics held in the past. The Farm Bureau and other organizations will be consulted in the effort to unite the picnics this year. The committee will report at the next Pomona Grange meeting which will be held in Fairfield the first Wednesday in June.

HOPES EXCEEDED AS RHEUMATISM IS KNOCKED OUT

"I heard so much about Tanlac overcoming stomach trouble and indigestion, I thought it might help my rheumatism, too, but I didn't dream it would give me such complete relief," said Mrs. Alice A. Dice, 1504 3rd St., S. E., Canton, Ohio, recently.

"The rheumatism came on suddenly and was all over me almost before I realized I was in its grip. It soon had me in dreadful pain and misery and so crippled up I was almost deprived of the use of my limbs. Mornings I simply couldn't get out of bed without assistance and I felt weak and run-down in every way.

"But all that is over now, and after taking three bottles of Tanlac, there isn't any soreness in my muscles or joints, my limbs are perfectly supple, and I never feel an ache or pain. Tanlac is really and truly such a grand medicine I wish every sufferer would try it."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35 million bottles sold.

GETTING UP NIGHTS

ails. E. E. Mullen Tells Experience.
E. E. Mullen, No. Kenova, Ohio, says: "For 10 years I have been troubled with kidneys and bladder. I had to get up 5 or 6 times each night. I had taken many kinds of medicine, but Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula) is the only kind that gave me any relief. My bladder is normal and I have only used the remedy for three weeks. If you want further facts, write me." Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula) acts on the kidneys and bladder like Epsom Salts on the bowels. It cleans them out, relieving the bladder of many abnormal deposits. These tablets cost 20¢ a piece. The price makes it possible to place in the formula several drugs which are useful for relief. The formula is on the package. It is not likely you have ever taken anything similar. Try a few tablets for backache, scalding, scanty or high-colored urine, and frequent desire at night. Be sure to get the Keller formula Lithiated Buchu at all drug stores, or write Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, O., or locally at Sayre and Hemphill.

Mother-To-Be, Read This—

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers. When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

LANCASHIRE'S COTTON TRADE IN POOR SHAPE

Manchester, Eng., March 29.—So bad is the position of the cotton trade in Lancashire that four-fifths of the firms using American yarn are starting to run half time.

This drastic cut is the result of a recommendation by the Master Cotton Spinners' Federation. This body asked all firms using American cotton to cut down work by 50 per cent during the month of March. Their recommendation was accepted in Manchester by the Cotton Spinners and Manufacturers' Association.

The suggestion has also been made that those members of the association who have both looms and spindles, and who have been selling some portion of their production in the open market, should fall in with the recommendation by making the equivalent stoppage of their spindles in the American section, in respect of that which in competition with that of members who spin for sale only.

Manchester spinners declare that the position has never been so hopeless as it is to-day. With cotton at its present price—approximately eleven cents a pound—this time last year—it is difficult, in the opinion of the trade, to see how the market, already impoverished, can take any profits.

Apart from the question of the increased price of raw material, cost of production still remains high, and until a cheaper article is produced it is difficult to see how it can be sold.

Opinion among spinners is almost unanimous that the 50 per cent cut on American cotton for one month will not be sufficient. Some mills, it is asserted, have been stopped for nine out of the last twelve months, and a 50 per cent cut is thought to be useless to restore margins in yarn.

PARIS PAYS FOR ACTRESS' FUNERAL

Paris, March 29.—The French government having refused to sanction a national funeral for Sara Bernhardt, her obsequies today were superintended and paid for by the city of Paris.

This morning the coffin was taken from the house to the church of St. Francis nearby, where a brief service was held. Only intimate friends, the family and civil dignitaries were admitted to the church. After the church ceremony the procession proceeded 11 miles through Paris boulevards to the Pere La Chaise cemetery, where the tomb which Sara designed for herself awaited her remains. In compliance with the dying request of the actress, no speeches were made.

The Bernhardt tomb is of the simplest form. Only the single word, "Bernhardt," is engraved on the stone. The arch will bear no date.

Speed Mania in Girls and Babies the Same Psychologist Asserts

Reno, Nev. March 29.—"Take a year-old baby. Put it in a baby buggy and push the buggy at a rapid rate. The youngster will gurgle and chortle with glee.

"Take an 18-year-old girl. Put her in a fast automobile and step on the gas. You'll get practically the same results."

So says James R. Young, professor of psychology at the University of Nevada.

"It is the primitive love of speed handed down through centuries in the evolution of the human race," he says.

Scot, oo, Takes a Sip From Flask on the Hip

London, March 29.—Even in "wet" Scotland they have their 'hip-pocket' bars. Arguing against licensing resolutions, Mitchell Banks told the Westminster Licensing Sessions that "the result of restriction in the form of local option in Scotland is every man has a hip-pocket and is a peripathetic public house in himself."

CRABBE WILL STAY OUT OF CONTROVERSY

Columbus, March 29.—Attorney General Crabbe will not take any action in the case of the Eastern Ohio Gas company of Cleveland, against which complaints have been filed, alleging violation of the anti-trust laws. The people of Cleveland and the gas company which supplies that city have had differences extending over a period of years, and recently the courts have conceded the company's right to turn off gas May 1, if its rates are not paid by Cleveland consumers. Certain consumers now seek to strike at the company by attempting to have the state bring ouster proceedings, claiming that the Standard Oil company owns most of its stock and that it is an illegal combination in restraint of trade. Attorney General Crabbe said he did not see sufficient evidence or circumstances to warrant any action in the case.

CHESTERTON RAPS U. S. PROHIBITION

London, March 29.—"Prohibition is anti-Christian and anti-social, and because America has prohibition she must not hold herself up as an ideal for the rest of the world," G. K. Chesterton declares.

Chesterton asserts that he was given wine and cocktails in large quantities when he last visited America, and on all sides he saw secrecy, hypocrisy and treason against the law.

"We are asked to follow with reverence America's example. They burn negroes alive in that country, and, although I am not pharisaical about that, I refuse to admit that a society in which a vast crowd of people can meet together while a man in evening dress sets fire to a negro and roasts him alive, has the right to set himself up as an exemplar of morality to the world.

"Prohibition is the sacrificing of a mass of normal people to a lot of abnormal people."

KING OF SIAM WEDS DANCING GIRL

This is the first picture to reach America of the King of Siam and his bride, who is a member of the royal dancing ballet. The romance of the King

A Debt That Society Owes Maturity

We ask of the modern professor the exercise of the highest human attributes—conscience, high thinking, a devotion to high ideals, learning, constructive talents and the genius to teach and train our sons and daughters to be the future leaders of the nation.

His value to the World is incomparable, yet he is often condemned to scarcity or even poverty, while his students go out to rewards only limited by ability and effort.

On account of meager salaries these devotees to the cause of higher education seldom have an opportunity to save enough for the "rainy day." By serving as teacher, guide and friend to thousands of our boys and girls, they are raising the seed corn of the World, but getting little or none of the harvest.

Society demands 100% efficiency from University professors, therefore society should provide endowment funds that will permit the payment of living incomes during the long years of sacrificing service and insure reasonable retirement allowances for declining years of unemployment.

How the Ohio Wesleyan Development Program Provides for This Necessity

To provide funds for instruction and building needs that have grown out of the much enlarged student body and out of greatly changed social, economic and educational conditions, the Ohio Wesleyan Development Program involving the raising of $8,000,000 is presented to those thousands who appreciate the World's need of Christian education, and are willing to translate their sympathies into financial action.

The Pensions item of $300,000 in this Development Program, will when safely invested, insure an annual income of about $15,000 to be used as a Pension Fund for retired professors.

This is an object that should strongly appeal to every thoughtful person, because these national character moulders often spend a lifetime of service at salaries that barely permit them to obtain the necessities of life, let alone enjoy any of the luxuries.

SPRING FESTIVAL AND MARDI GRAS COMING IN APRIL

Arrangements were completed Wednesday night for the promotion of a Spring Festival and Mardi Gras to be given under the joint auspices of the Daughters of America and Xenia Council, No. 67, Jr. Order, United American Mechanics.

The spring carnival will be held at the Rink between the dates of April 21 to April 28, including two Saturday nights. The entire program of entertainment has not been definitely decided upon but the committee selected is assuring the public that an interesting entertainment may be expected.

The door admission of ten cents will entitle those attending to all the free acts inside the Rink, in addition to numerous industrial displays representing the products of Xenia manufacturers and merchants. Just what the decoration scheme will be is being kept a secret by the committee, which refuses to reveal plans. A combination merchandise ticket is being solicited through the courtesy of local merchants and business men and will be placed on sale by members of the organization at ten cents each. The ticket will contain a largely varied line of merchandise and prices.

It is planned to open the festival with a street parade Saturday night and several nights will be set aside for the Mardi Gras when prizes will be awarded to the most comical and best masked participants, which will add greatly to interest in the affair.

MALARIA GERM IS FOUND CURE FOR PARALYSIS

Edinburgh, March 26.—The success of a new treatment for general paralysis of the insane by inoculation with malarial has led to a discovery which may revolutionize the science of medicine.

Put shortly, it is nothing more than the playing off of one disease against another. The discoverer is Professor Robertson, of Edinburgh. The fact that every poison has an antidote capable of cancelling its destructive power has long been known but now it would seem that doctors are on the border of hitherto unsuspected scientific territory.

Experiment over a long period have proved successful in the treatment of general paralysis of the insane by malaria. The process is that the paralytic is injected with living germs taken from a patient suffering from malaria. The result is an attack of malaria which, after it has run its course, leaves the patient free from his original disease. It is not merely a process of helping the cure of a disease by sending another in the patient's body, so that in the battle forthcoming both may go down to defeat in mutual destruction. British doctors believe that the discovery may inaugurate a new era in medical science and may even lead eventually to the extermination of disease. But, of course, years of patient and exhaustive inquiry will be necessary.

Mrs. Buzzi Re-arrested in Schneider Murder

Mrs. Anna Buzzi.

This photograph of Mrs. Anna Buzzi was taken at the time of her second arrest in New York City charged with the murder of Millionaire Contractor Frederick Schneider, with whom she lived. She was held as a material witness at the time of the killing, but released on bond. Clever detective work by New York detectives ascertained that the pistol found alongside Schneider's body when he was slain in his automobile belonged to Mrs. Buzzi's brother-in-law, and he confessed he gave it to her two days before the killing.

SAYS EXPERTS WASTING TIME ON HELICOPTER

London March 23.—While the aeronautical world spends its energy and resources upon the perfecting of the helicopter it might be working to greater advantage in other fields of aviation.

This is the conclusion drawn from statements made by Major F. M. Green, Fellow the Royal Aeronautical Society. "I am convinced that the power expended in flight in a helicopter, flying at speeds found to be useful for aeroplanes, will be very much greater than for the aeroplane and I believe that, apart from all other disadvantages, this fact alone will render the machine quite impossible for passenger carrying—at any rate until engines of much greater strength are available," Major Green said.

SEES LITTLE FUTURE

"It seems that as a means of air travel the helicopter has little or no future and the fact that it may be possible to rise and land in confined spaces is of little value if the ability to fly from place to place at reasonable speed is absent. In itself the advantage of a vertical rise and fall is unlikely to be as great as might be supposed. The difficulty of effecting a landing of a direct lift machine in a wind is certain to be great. In the ordinary aeroplane the presence of a wind is certain to be great. In the ordinary aeroplane the presence of a wind helps rather than hinders matters both in getting off and alighting. The case of the helicopter is worse than that of the airship, where considerable skill is necessary to effect safe landings in a high wind.

"Another aspect of safety is the question of stability. It is, of course, possible to make an ordinary airplane stable in flight and so long as the pilot is not undertaking any severe maneuver, such as is sometimes made necessary by engine failure, the risk of accident from loss of stability is unimportant. The stability of a direct lift machine, I believe never has been worked out numerically.

NOT ESPECIALLY SAFE
"From the point of view of structural safety the helicopter is likely to present grave difficulties. The aeroplane depends for its support upon a system of planes, which except for small movements of the control surfaces are fixed. In the helicopter the equivalent of the plane structure is dependent upon a number of bearings and working joints, which will certainly increase the difficulty of making a safe structure that is reasonably light.

"It will no doubt be argued that there are peculiar advantages that might be gained in war from a machine capable of hovering, but if this is so it is suggested in all seriousness that a balloon or an airship is a far more promising method of obtaining the result. It is likely to cost less and to be safer. The object of air travel is to get from place to place and it seems highly unlikely that the helicopter type of machine will ever afford a useful means of doing this."

TO DELIVER SERMON

The Rev. W. E. McClure will deliver the sermon Thursday night at the special services at the First United Presbyterian Church. The Rev. McClure will speak on the Romans (eighth) and discuss the Eternal Security of the Saints.

Don't delay fighting constipation with BRAN that is ALL BRAN!

When constipation flashes its signals of sickness into your eyes and cheeks; into your breath, your brain and your appetite, it is absolutely necessary that you head it off! Toxic poisoning stands close by; Bright's disease and other dangerous diseases await their turn!

The remedy that nature offers is the simplest and most effective—Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, which is ALL BRAN! And it is ALL BRAN! It is ALL BRAN you need when you start to fight constipation. You can't afford to delay a minute and you can't afford to use half-way measures with foods that contain a percentage of bran! Your physician will recommend Kellogg's Bran because it is not only effective, but because it is delicious. Why—you will like its nut-like flavor, which adds so much to any food with which it is served.

Be certain to eat Kellogg's Bran regularly—at least two tablespoonfuls daily; in chronic cases with each meal. Results will prove astounding. Remember that Kellogg's Bran is nature's own regulator, which operates in nature's way—which is the best way!

Eat Kellogg's Bran as a cereal, sprinkled on other hot or cold cereals, or make it up into the best of muffins, pancakes, raisin bread, cookies, macaroons. Kellogg recipes are printed on each package. Let the children eat Kellogg's Bran. It is wonderfully beneficial. It will improve their health just as it will really and truly make-over men and women. The value of Kellogg's Bran cannot be overestimated. Sold universally by grocers.

BAYLIFFS WILL OPEN SEASON APRIL 22

HORSE BACK RIDING BECOMING POPULAR; WHY NOT CLUB?

GOLF BUG NOW BUZZING BUSILY IN XENIA

BAYLIFFS TO OPEN APRIL 22
Things are beginning to look up around the Washington Street ball park, where Roy Bayliff's aggregation of semi-pro stars will cavort during the coming baseball season.

With the opening date set for less than a month away, things are moving along swiftly to prepare the old yard for the lid-prying festivities.

Manager Bayliff has booked the Hamilton Movers for the initial encounter of the season. This team has been together for the last four seasons and is coming to Xenia with an unblemished record April 22 to help the locals crack open the summer's diamond sport.

In preparation for the afternoon's activities, Manager Bayliff is dressing up the old sand lot with promises that it will be one of the snappiest parks in these parts. A new grandstand is being erected and the old stands and bleachers repaired, so that the seating arrangements will be increased 60 per cent. The infield is being smoothed and rolled and the gardens will be dressed up to aid the fielders to better handle ground balls.

There is plenty of room to spare in the Bayliff yard. Even the toughest apple-knocker in the circuit would find it almost impossible to smack the horsehide out of the grounds and the outfields polished up, the outfielders can feel safe in going back for any kind of a try on a high ball or a lengthy smite. Due to the position of the park, the sun does not bother the team in the field, and this is a big point in favor of the Washington Street yard.

Advance notices allege that the Hamilton Movers will prove to be no gang of set-ups for the local pastimers, especially for an opening event. The youngsters and veterans that Bayliff is gathering together to play under his banner this year will have a tough assignment on their hands in tangling bats with the much-touted visitors, and if they come away with a victory, fans can rest assured they will be able to take care of themselves the rest of the season.

The admission to all games this year will be 35 cents according to announcement made by Manager Bayliff. The question of arbitrators has not yet been settled. Lawrence Rachford, the peer of local indicator men, may draw the assignment while it is possible that Anell Stephens may don the mask and breast protector at least part of the time.

RIDING GETTING POPULAR

There is every indication that the sport of horse back riding has a hold on Xenia people that will not likely be shaken off.

The popularity of the sport is sweeping the country and this city has only been bitten by the bug in the same proportion with cities all over the country.

The inauguration of the riding schools has placed the sport within the reach of everybody. Formerly it was necessary to own a stable of mounts in order to follow this pastime but on the rental basis now, anyone can enjoy this sport.

Enthusiasts of the bridle path say that horseback riding is one of the most satisfactory forms of exercise. It brings the rider into the open and furnishes a relaxation of the muscles that can be attained in but few sports. Adherents of other lines of sport endeavor might dispute this comment, but it is nevertheless true that the sport is recommended largely for its physical value.

With the increasing popularity of the sport, the establishment of a riding club or of stables at the Xenia Country Club might be a popular move this summer. A number of Xenia people own their own mounts, while others have been taking advantage of the sport by renting the horses from conductors of riding schools. The result is that there has been a demand for good-gaited saddle horses and school managers and instructors are supplying their stables with excellent horse flesh for the enthusiasts.

The establishment of a riding school would serve to further popularize the sport and increase the number of its followers.

CHESS PLAYER TO MEET

Cleveland, March 29.—Frank J. Marshall, American chess champion, and Edward Lasker, contender for his title, will play two games of their match for the title and a stake of $5,000 at the city club here, Secretary Francis T. Hayes announced today. The games will be played April 16 and 18.

Three games of the match have already been played in New York, Lasker winning two, while the third was drawn. Marshall, who was away off form in his play, writes that he has entirely recovered and expects to give a good account of himself.

GOLF BUG IS BUZZING

The busy little golf bug, aroused from his state of dormancy by the approach of spring, is buzzing busily in the ears of local enthusiasts.

Xenia Country Club members maintain that that organization will be stronger than ever this year. The club is financially clear and in a position to make necessary improvements this summer that will further popularize the club as the mecca for many Xenians.

An official opening of the club season has not been announced, but golf bugs need no better inducement than favorable weather to draw them to the links.

With this sort of weather now in the offing, the fans are getting restless, and it is promised that business and offices will be deserted soon by the exodus to the course.

Mrs. Minnie Sanders

Mrs. Minnie Sanders, the oldest of five children in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Philip P. Zachman, deceased, was born at Grayville, Ill., May 22, 1856, and died February 20, 1923, 5:15 P. M., at the age of 66 years, 9 months and 29 days.

Her early childhood was spent at Grayville, Ill., and at the age of 10, moved with her parents to Cincinnati, Ohio, where she resided until 1879, when she united in marriage on Thanksgiving Day to Samuel E. Sanders.

She lived with her husband on a farm one and one-half miles southwest of Jamestown. To this happy union two children were born, George G. Sanders and Florence Elizabeth.

After residing here for 22 years moved on a farm near Cedarville until 1920, when they moved to Jamestown. The husband died January 1, 1921.

During her early married life she affiliated membership with the Methodist Episcopal Church at Jamestown. She was a member of both Home and Foreign Missionary Societies. She was an active member of the Eastern Star Chapter of Jamestown, since moving to this city. Here she met and made many new friends, and was a very reliable, worthy member.

Those surviving to mourn the loss of a loving mother and sister, are

George G. Sanders, of Jamestown, and Mrs. Walter G. Fields, of near Cedarville, the only children. The sisters are Mrs. Emsley Cummings, of Jamestown, and Mrs. Elvira Clark, of Cincinnati, Ohio; brothers, Messrs. Thomas and Clarence Zachman, of Cincinnati; nephew, Eugene, Lesley and Earl Zachman, and Archibald Smith; one niece, Miss Dorothy Zachman; also one foster-daughter, Mrs. Glen Laura, of Dayton.

She took sick Thursday, February 15, with a light attack of grip, which developed into plural pneumonia. Her two children provided excellent care and remained faithfully at her bedside throughout her illness. As she grew weaker, she realized the time of her going was not far away.

Being of a quiet and patient disposition, she was loved by all her children, relatives, a host of friends and neighbors.

But she has crossed the river. She is with th angels now.

FRECKLES

March Worst Month for This Trouble
—How to Remove Easily

There's a reason why nearly everybody freckles in March, but happily there is also a remedy for these ugly blemishes, and no one need stay freckled.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength from your druggist and apply a little of it night and morning and in a few days you should see that even worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the light ones have vanished entirely. Now is the time to rid yourself of freckles, for if not removed now they stay all Summer and spoil an otherwise beautiful complexion. Your money back if Othine fails.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

DOCTORS WANTED TO OPERATE

Mrs. Quillon Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her from an Operation

Muskegon, Michigan.—"After doctoring for eight or nine years with different physicians without any relief at all, they said at last that medicine would not reach my case and I should have an operation. I had heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and often saw it advertised in different papers where some women had suffered just as I did and got well and strong again by taking the Vegetable Compound. I decided to see what it would do for me, and before I had finished the fourth bottle I was much better, the weakness stopped and the severe pains in my sides left me. I am now much stronger and do my own work and work in the factory besides. I am still taking the Vegetable Compound and give it all the praise."—Mrs. NELLIE QUILLON, 17 Morris St., Muskegon, Mich.

Women should heed such warning symptoms as bearing-down pains and weakness, for they indicate some female trouble, and a persistent and faithful use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will seldom fail to help.

God gives the joy for mourning, Thy tears are wiped away. They are waiting in that city. Where the saints and angels wait. And I'll know thee dearest mother, When I reach the pearly gates.

It kills catarrh germs. Prevents formation of crusts in nose, phlegm in throat. Soothes inflamed membranes, relieves stuffed up feeling in two minutes.

No stomach dosing—just breathe medicated air. HYOMEI. Sold by all druggists. Satisfaction guaranteed or money back. HYOMEI out fit includes hand rubber inhaler, liquid, gauze, etc., with full directions. Sayre & Hemphill

Loosen Up That Cold With Musterole

Have Musterole handy when a cold starts. It has all of the advantages of grandmother's mustard plaster WITHOUT the blister. You just apply it with the fingers. First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then comes a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Made of pure oil of mustard and other simple ingredients, Musterole is recommended by many nurses and doctors. Try Musterole for bronchitis, sore throat, stiff neck, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, croup, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back or joints, sore muscles, sprains, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest. It may prevent pneumonia and "flu." 35c and 65c, jars and tubes.

DELIVERY OF MAIL IN XENIA CURTAILED AFTER APRIL 1 AS FUNDS FAIL

Because of a shortage in funds in the Post Office Department at Washington, mail delivery service in Xenia, for a period of three months, from April 1 to July 1, will be curtailed, it was announced at the Xenia Post Office Thursday.

Delivery to residences will be reduced from two to one a day, while the night collection of mail, now between 6:45 and 7:45 o'clock, will for the period named be discontinued, under the ruling sent out by the Post Office Department. The last possible carrier collection in the afternoon cannot be made later than 4 p. m., after that time persons desiring mail dispatched without delay will be obliged to take it to the postoffice after 3 p. m.

While an effort will be made to maintain the three deliveries daily to business section of the city, it is said that mails may prove so heavy that it may be necessary to cut this to two deliveries.

The morning collection of mail, now made between 7 and 8 o'clock daily except Sundays, by an auxiliary carrier, will for the time being be made by regular carriers, who will do this work before reporting to the post office for their initial trips.

This will mean a delay of 15 to 20 minutes daily in the first delivery of mail.

City delivery service is now performed by seven regular carriers, and two auxiliary carriers. The latter averaging full time about five days out each week. Under the national order received by Postmaster Rice, service by these two auxiliary carriers will for three months be discontinued. Under the order each carrier is temporarily prohibited from making any over time.

The Xenia post office receives an average of 500 parcels per day. The business is so heavy that the parcel post carrier cannot carry the full load, the remainder being distributed among the six remaining carriers. The parcel post carrier's average is about 200 per day with a mileage of from 16 to 20 miles daily. So regular city delivery is limited to six carriers.

The Post Office Department has run short of funds. This is the reason for this drastic and, it is claimed, unprecedented order. In other words the appropriation made by Congress has proved insufficient to meet the demands of the service and no addition money will be available until the first of July. The condition is decidedly anomalous, it is said for the reason that the unique situation has been brought about by an increase of postal business averaging about 40 per cent the country over.

This increase has made such a drain on appropriations that the fund for auxiliary help and overtime has been virtually exhausted. The Postmaster General is not authorized to create a deficit, the only remedy is a special session of Congress to provide for the needs of the department for the ensuing three months, it is understood. Inasmuch as Congressional action does not appear imminent the curtailment of service all the country has been ordered.

New York City, it is said, is already down to one delivery per day in sections and other offices even in the largest cities will be compelled to follow this action.

There will be no reduction of window service at the Xenia Post Office although in many cities it has already been arranged to consolidate windows and to close money order windows at 4 p. m.

The local office made a strenuous effort to get an allowance for auxiliary carrier service, pointing out that the city needs one additional carrier because of increase in population and abnormally heavy mails and that it is going to be exceedingly difficult to give the officers service that has characterized city delivery with the forced reduction by two carriers and over time prohibited.

Thursday was received that the granting of the allowance requested had been rejected and that any expenditure over that allowed under the order issued would have to be paid out of the Postmaster's personal funds. Other postmasters received similar orders.

ESCAPES SERIOUS INJURY WHEN RUN DOWN BY HORSES

Warren Newcomer, Central High School student miraculously escaped possible death or serious injury about four o'clock Wednesday afternoon when he was run down by a team of runaway horses at Market and White-man streets while riding a bicycle.

The team, hitched to a large farm wagon, was standing in front of the parsonage of the First Baptist Church where furniture, belonging to the Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Brown was being unloaded. It is believed that the horses became frightened at the noise of automobiles in front of Central High School Children leaving Central School escaped injuring in the accident.

The time for our annual fight with the moth has arrived. The good housekeeper finds satisfaction in being thorough to a point of "fussiness" in exterminating this pest.

Moths in wool clothing must be killed as follows: Clean the garment out of doors with either gasoline or benzine (both flammable and cannot be used near heat or flame). Brushing on the under side of coat-collars, in seams, pockets and other creases where moth eggs are most liable to be deposited is especially important. The value of long sunning after cleaning cannot be over-emphasized. When you feel that you have conquered the moth (indeed, it is wise to brush and sun clothes even when no traces of moths are found), the next step is to wrap the garment in newspapers and seal the folded edges of the paper tightly with strips of gummed paper. Hang such bundles, by strings in a light place during the Summer months.

Many housekeepers notice moths and buffalo bugs in their rugs as the warmer weather approaches. To get rid of these clean the rugs well by the usual process—beating out of doors—then spray them on both sides with gasoline. Air them thoroughly after this spraying, before turning them to their place on the floor.

A badly infested carpet, however, needs the following treatment: Go over the entire surface with a hot iron, pressing the rug or carpet over a cloth wrung out of cold water but not too dry. The resulting formation of steam will kill both the eggs and larvae of the moths and buffalo bugs.

Moths in closets are killed as follows: Remove everything in the closet, clean floor and walls with a whisk broom, and then spray kerosene into all cracks in floor and walls around baseboards and ends of shelves. Bags containing dried lavender are a valuable repellent; just hang these tiny bags on the closet hooks and leave them there the year round.

To keep moths from getting into the felt in your piano, hang small bags containing cedar chips or camphor balls inside the piano case.

The woman who lives near a big city fur store, or department store, which has a cold storage plant for furs, is indeed lucky. It costs little to store your furs in such a plant for the summer—and what a lot of trouble and anxiety it saves the housekeeper! Otherwise she must brush and sun her furs at home and store them in newspaper packages as directed above for clothing.

Berlin, March 29.—Only 170,000,000 gold marks, or approximately 75 per cent of the $50,000,000 internal loan, has been subscribed, according to an "unofficial report" in the National Gazette. The subscriptions for the loan closed Saturday. Neither the Reichsbank nor the finance ministry have given out any figures. Banking circles intimate that pressure is being brought to bear on the banks to subscribe enough to make the $50,000,000.

NOTED EUROPEAN DOCTORS TELL HOW PILES CAN BE DRIED UP

So That They Disappear; Hadensa Treatment Now Used by Leading Hospitals in the Greatest Medical Center of the World.

New York, N. Y.—To combat the painful, nerve-shattering hemorrhoids (piles), both bleeding and blind, there is nothing like the Hadensa treatment according to the great Dr. Stettner, of Catherine Hospital, Stuttgart, Germany.

In an exclusive interview for readers of this paper, Dr. Stettner says, "I have used Hadensa in different cases of piles, some quite aggravated, and the results have always been that the patients are very much relieved from their pains and discomforts. I especially wish to mention one particular case. An elderly man was suffering with piles in such an advanced stage that it was impossible to use a suppository. However, with the small spout of the Hadensa tube it was easy to apply the salve to the troublesome part and thus relieve our patient from his pains."

Commenting on this, Dr. Hans B. Pfeiderer, a specialist of Knittlingen, Germany, says, "I, too, found the most remarkable and satisfactory results

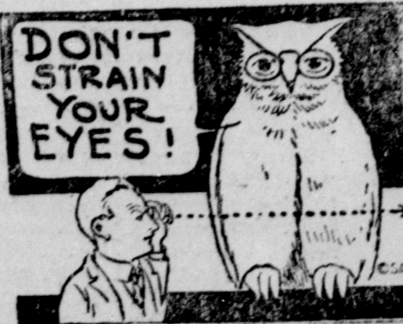

FROM THE FIRST TUBE OF HADENSA USED.

Hadensa often makes operations unnecessary because its ingredients actually dry up the piles so that they fall out! Some of the world's greatest hospitals and clinics prescribe the Hadensa treatment exclusively, in the treatment of piles.

Hadensa mentioned above can be had by prescription from your physicians, or direct from such good druggists as Sayre and Hemphill. Guaranteed safe to use. Money refunded by U. S. Agents, Rockfall and Co., New York, in case Hadensa does not prove entirely satisfactory in your own case.

A PURITAN WIFE

By Jane Phelps

CHAPTER XLV.

Dick asked them to remain for lunch, but Ned refused, saying: "I want to go back and get to work at once. Come, Grace!"

Languidly Grace got up, and as she passed Dick said:

"Remember I go in three days. Her tone a reminder. Ann wondered of what. What had Dick promised her?"

"Goodbye, Ann. Remember what I told you! Learn to look at life less seriously. You'll have a lot better time!"

The girl's assurance was amazing. After they left Dick talked enthusiastically about the seedlings, his delight at getting them at a price. He praised Ann for her help, was more like himself than before the incident that had so pained Ann.

"He loves his ranch more than he loves her," she said to herself, "perhaps more than he loves baby and me. But we're not jealous of that. It's our home too."

In three days Grace was going! "Thank God!" Ann said aloud as she sat on the porch shaded by the bougainvillea vine, little Jack beside her. "Perhaps, baby, I will be happy again with just you and daddy—"

Bessie telephoned that Ned insisted upon giving a party the night before Grace left. She added:

"Don't come if you don't want to, Ann. I shall understand."

But Dick insisted upon accepting the invitation. He said:

"We don't have a great deal of pleasure, Ann. And Grace was right. It doesn't do to take life too seriously. We won't stay late, on account of Jack." They would have to take him.

"I wish you would not insist upon going, Dick," Ann said.

"Don't be silly! Of course we'll go. I have to go to the store tomorrow. I need several things, so make your list." Then: "You don't have to go to the party if you don't want to. I shall go, however."

"Oh, I'll go with you," Ann answered, fearful she knew not of what should she let him go alone.

The next morning Dick started for the general store, a list of necessities in his pocket. About noon Bessie came over. Grace had gone with him he going out of his way to get her. That was what she meant by her reminder when she spoke of going. He had promised to take her with him.

Ann tried to comfort herself by thinking it would keep him away from the bad liquor he drank, that she was going away soon, etc. But as the day wore slowly away, she was gripped again by jealousy, and uncustomed tears fell as she busied herself about the house.

It was 10 o'clock when she heard the flit, and then Grace's voice. She opened the door, and saw Grace helping Dick, who leaned inertly upon her.

COLDS ARE CONTAGIOUS

"He's got an awful skate on, Ann!" she said as Ann added her assistance. "He's too funny for words."

Ann never spoke. She helped Dick on to the couch, then turned to Grace. "Take the car. Li can bring it back."

"Hospitable aren't you?" Grace laughed mockingly and then for the first time Ann noticed that she too had been drinking. A sudden disgust ran over her as she started for the car. She would remove the parcels some of the things would be needed in the morning.

Not one single package could she find. Without a word she went into the house, closing the door. She heard Grace drive away, then turned her attention to Dick, who was already asleep.

"He forgot again—and she was with him," she muttered as she made him as comfortable as she could. "He'll forget once too often," she said to herself, as she had many times said to him. "I will not always forgive."

"We went on a bust, Ann! Grace was so cut up because I refused her before, that when she planned to go to a movie and have dinner at the restaurant I couldn't refuse her. I hadn't time to do the errands before the movie, then we stopped to talk to some of the boys, and I bought a pint. I took a big drink, and then I had dinner and then it was too late to get the things. We spent too much time eating." This the next morning.

Dick had spoken lightly, like an irresponsible boy. As Ann didn't speak he added:

"You know Grace is going day after tomorrow. It would have seemed petty to refuse her a good time."

"She drank with you at dinner?"

"Yes, and she's a good sport! Carries it better than I do."

"So I observed. She helped you into the house."

"How did she get home—walk? It would be just like her." Dick chuckled.

"I told her to take the car. Li will bring it back."

That was all. Ann said no word of censure, Dick of regret. But all day Ann had the feeling that she should have protested, should have shown her disapproval.

Tomorrow—A Paen Of Praise.

COURT DECISION PARTLY MODIFIED BY LATER RULING

Decision of the Greene County Common Pleas Court is partially affirmed and partially modified by the Court of Appeals in a decision handed down Thursday in the case of J. Q. A. Baker, plaintiff in error, against R. W. Hough, and others, defendants in error.

The Appellate Court decision modifies the judgment of the lower court in regard to a division line under contest between properties of the principals, holding that the line should be fixed parallel to the line fixed by the lower court by far enough west so that the present barn owned by Baker, on its present location, will stand entirely on Baker's lot.

The Appellate Court holds it inequitable and unjust to Baker to adjust the disputed line so as to interfere with Baker's possession of the barn or to require him to remove it, after it had been constructed without objection. In all other respects the judgment of the Court of Common Pleas was affirmed.

Marcus Shoup of this city was attorney for the plaintiff in error and W. A. Paxson, of Jamestown, was attorney for the defendants in error.

Sexton of St. Stephen's Was Actually Afraid To Cross the Street

Harrisburg Man Would Tremble Like a Leaf From Nervousness and Was Often Seized With Dizzy Spells That Kept Him in Constant Danger.

HEALTH IS COMPLETELY RESTORED BY DR. THACHER'S LIVER & BLOOD SYRUP

The many friends of Henry Stees, for thirty years the worthy Sexton of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Harrisburg, will be gratified to learn of his complete recovery to health as a result of taking Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup, the celebrated medicine that is accomplishing such remarkable results everywhere.

Mr. Stees, who lives at 132 Cranberry Ave., Harrisburg, Pa., is a retired member of Hope Fire Company No. 2, and is held in the highest esteem by all who know him.

For the past five or six years Mr. Stees has been in a deplorable state of health, verging upon a nervous breakdown, and when such people as he come out and publicly testify that Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup has made them well and strong again, the unusual merit of this tonic can no longer be doubted. But let Mr. Stees tell his story in his own words: "For six years," says Mr. Stees, "I have had a tired, dragging feeling that made me unhappy and miserable. I was steadily losing in weight and strength, had no appetite and suffered constantly from constipation. Often when walking I would see spots before my eyes and would become so dizzy I was afraid to cross the street for fear I would be run over; and I was so nervous at times

I would shake like a leaf and just couldn't control myself. My tongue was always coated. I had awful headaches and my breath was so offensive I dodged my friends to keep them from knowing it."

"I was induced to try Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup by what I had heard about it, and a few doses made me feel so much better that I kept it up until I had taken three bottles. My appetite is now just fine. I eat heartily of anything I want, those headaches are all gone, I never feel dizzy and nervous like I did before and I am getting stronger and better every day. In fact I feel better today than I have in a long time and I know it was Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup that relieved my troubles."

Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup is sold by leading druggists in Xenia it is featured by Sayre & Hemphill and the Sohn Drug Store. Adv

WANTS WAR DEPARTMENT TO PROBE SLANDER SUIT

MRS. AGNES RANDLE.

Captain's Wife Brings Ac- tion Against Colonel of Husband's Regiment

Indianapolis, Ind., March 29.—Louis K. Karns, brother of Mrs. Agnes Karns Randle, who with her husband, Captain Edwin H. Randle, is suing Col. A. L. Conger of Fort Sam Houston, Texas, for $100,000 alleged defamation of character, is on his way to Washington today to lay the entire matter before the war department.

Karns, who lives in Indianapolis, received a special delivery letter from Captain Randle yesterday in which details of the affair were revealed to the family for the first time.

Captain Randle explained in the letter that all his telegrams had been censored by Colonel Conger and requested Karns to ask the War Department authorities to have an examination made of Colonel Conger to determine his mental condition.

The matter will be taken directly to Secretary of War Weeks, Karns said. He said he would insist upon a searching investigation of the whole affair.

Mrs. Randle sued Colonel Conger following a number of controversies between her husband and the colonel. According to the statement of Captain Randle, which Karns is taking to Washington, the whole affair originated at two parties given at Captain Randle's quarters—one New Year's eve, and the other February 10, this year.

Captain Randle's quarters, the statement says, are one half of a war time hospital building the only other portion of his apartment and that of his neighbor being two thick, narrow boardwalks.

"The guests on both of these occasions," said Captain Randle's letter to Karns, "were officers of my regiment with their wives."

Captain Randle said that an officer and his wife who occupy the other end of the same buildings are not friends of his.

At the instigation of his wife, the officer, according to Captain Randle, made an official report to the division inspector that Captain Randle gave frequent parties at his quarters lasting into the night which disturbed him and his family and at which profane language was used.

The officer was questioned by the division inspector, the captain said, and he admitted his only knowledge was "what his wife had told him."

"The officers who were guests of mine," Captain Randle's statement said, "testified that the parties were noisy, with singing and dancing but there was absolutely no profane language used."

Bonar Law said he did not believe the proposals would be satisfactory to France.

Though he failed definitely to reject them, he indicated that he was unwilling to forward them to Paris.

The German memorandum stated that (despite the recent speech of Chancellor Wilhelm Cuno to the contrary) Germany would not demand evacuation of the Ruhr as a primary condition of settlement.

The memorandum did insist, however, that the final settlement provide for the integrity of German territory in accordance with the Versailles treaty and the withdrawal of the French and Belgian troops.

London, March 29.—Former Premier Asquith in the house of commons, denouncing the situation in the Ruhr as most grave and disquieting, demanded that the government turn the light on France's policy. He declared that if France's program was carried out to the end it would mean the creation of a new Alsace-Lorraine, with all that such a result implies.

Asquith branded the Bonar Law policy as one of "benevolent impotence," and insisted that the treaty of Versailles, which provided that there should be no forts on either bank of the Rhine, insured adequate safety for France.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Baldwin, in the absence of Premier Bonar Law, who is suffering from a sore throat, acknowledged "that there has existed during the last few months a profound difference of opinion between the allies and ourselves over the policy which has been adopted in the Ruhr." "The French are singularly unwilling to accept intervention of any kind," added Baldwin. "It is that attitude that so far has prevented a door being opened and barred against ordinary methods of approach, and which has prevented appeals for settlement."

SOLONS CRITICISED.
Cleveland, March 29.—"The Kent normal school issue is an attempt to drag education into politics," said D. C. Willis of Cleveland, chairman of the board of trustees of the Kent school. Willis is one of the trustees who have stood pat for President McGilvrey in the face of the legislative threat to refuse any appropriation.

"This is the sort of thing that discourages business men with public service," he said.

COACH SEIBERT RESIGNS.
Toledo, March 29.—Fred Seibert, Jr., manual training teacher and faculty manager of Scott high school since 1915, has resigned, effective at the close of the school year in June.

OUTBREAK OF WARFARE IN KENTUCKY THREATENS

Trouble May Follow Killing of Four Persons When Posse Fires On Barricaded Cabin In Leslie County

Harlan, Ky., March 29.—The danger of an outbreak of the feudal warfare for which these Kentucky hills are famous was apparent everywhere as a result of the killing of four persons, when a "posse" of 22 men opened fire on a barricaded cabin.

One of the dead is a woman. Although the raiders were reported to be in quest of illicit liquor, that explanation is sniffed at by feudists, who learned to hate when they are weakened.

The battle ground was at the mouth of Beach Fork creek, in Leslie County. The county was invaded by the posse from Harlan County, which surrounded the humble cabin and hid behind piles of cordwood.

They called upon the occupants to surrender. The answer was a rifle barrel thrust through a small window, a flash of red flame and the crash of a heavy calibre projectile.

Instantly 22 rifles, some of them heavy 50-75's roared. Ike Strong and his wife, and George Strong, occupants of the stockade, were slain. So was Kelly Walker, one of the "posse-men."

Under a rickety bed in the cabin were huddled the five frightened screaming children of the Strong's. None of them was hit.

It was reported, rather proudly among friends of the Strong's that it was Mrs. Strong who fired that challenging shot in defense of her home that provoked the salvo from the invaders.

BERNHARDT FUNERAL MARKED BY SCENES OF UNUSUAL GRIEF

Divine Sarah Buried Thurs- day — Program is Changed

Paris, March 29.—Amidst almost unprecedented scenes of grief and lamentation, Madame Sarah Bernhardt—the divine Sarah—was buried today. It had been announced that there would be no sermon, no mass and no music, but at the last minute this program was changed. There was a low mass in the Church of St. Francois Des Sales which lasted an hour. A funeral chant was sung and an orchestra played "Ave's Death," from Peer Gynt.

The police lines were unable to gather the enormous crowd which gathered about the church. Persons brushed past the gendarmes and entered the church amidst great confusion. The solemnity of the occasion was marred by the trampling of feet and the scraping of chairs. Men and women crowded close to the catafalque in an effort to see the coffin.

FEDERAL OFFICIALS TO TAKE HAND IN LAW VIOLATIONS

Cincinnati, O., March 29.—Federal officials are expected to take a hand in the inquiry regarding alleged wholesale law violations in Pike County.

While the Ohio legislature was perusing a report that "crookedness" existed in both parties in that county, and retaining Robert S. Wynn, Democrat, rather than seating Harry L. Foster, Republican in the house of representatives, agents of the U. S. district attorney, Thomas H. Morrow, were found to have been at work on clues said to indicate that vote selling had been a fine art in Waverly and the outlying districts of Pike county, at least in the 1922 election.

Reports from Waverly stated that two former private detectives from Cincinnati had been employed by the plaintiffs counsel to take documentary evidence from the safe of a Democratic leader.

The case involves alleged irregularities in use of absentee voters ballots.

FIRE SWEEPS RESORT

TAX MEASURES ARE PASSED BY STATE SENATE

Taft, Albaugh and Robison Bills Put Through In Quick Order

BEFORE GOVERNOR

Columbus, March 29.—The House today passed the Taft Bill, to limit the borrowing of money by board of education, without vote of the people and to provide for the funding of existing indebtedness on July 1, 1923, by a vote of 98 to 2. The measure now goes to the Senate.

The House also passed the Carpenter bill, requiring insurance companies to file annually a sworn statement of their financial condition, and the Garver bill, to permit boards of education on vote of the people to issue bonds to replace school buildings condemned by the Department of Industrial Relations. The two bills now go to Governor Donahay.

Columbus, March 29.—The Taft tax bill, and its companion measures, the Albaugh and Robison bills, passed the senate and are now before the governor. They had been previously approved by the house.

The Taft measure recodifies the present tax laws and raises the limitation to 17 mills in cities and villages and reduces it to 14 mills outside municipalities; the Albaugh bill provides for a county tax board and appointive tax assessors to take the place of the present elective ward and township assessors, and the Robison bill increases the penalty for failure to list property for taxation.

But four dissenting votes were cast against the Taft bill, those of Senators Briggs, Ferguson, Adair and Garver, all Democrats.

A bill authorizing the governor to appoint a board of seven trustees for Kent Normal school is expected to be introduced in the House today. Supporters of the proposed measure seek to oust Dr. McGilvrey from the presidency of that school. The proposed new board would supplant the present membership which is sticking to President McGilvrey.

The Senate finance committee is expected to report favorably today or Friday, the Blossom bill, authorizing changes recommended by Governor Donahay, to be made in plans for the proposed penitentiary in Madison County. The bill passed the house, the Senate concurred in the action of the House which amended the Senate resolution so as to provide for legislative recess of three weeks, starting April 6.

By a bill passed by the house women prisoners who are unable to pay fines in misdemeanor cases may be sent to the Ohio reformatory at Marysville. Men prisoners may be placed at work for the county at a rate of not less than $1.50 a day and charged for board, tools and transportation expenses. Neither men nor women may be released by county commissioners unless the prosecuting attorney and trial judges agree.

The senate by a vote of 24 to 7 refused to authorize an inquiry into conditions relating to highway construction. The principal argument by the Republicans was to the effect that the object of the Democratic senators in pressing action on the resolution was to investigate the director of highways, a Davis holdover appointee. Three of the affirmative votes were cast by Republicans. They were Gifford, author of the resolution; Bender of Cleveland and Burke of Elyria.

Parochial School Bill Killed.
The bill of Representative Charles Brenner of Cuyahoga county, barring private and parochial schools and requiring all children from 6 to 16 years of age to attend public schools, was killed by the house schools committee.

Women members of the house lost their fight against lowering the age limit for child labor, and the Bloom bill, which permits children from 12 to 14 years old to work in agricultural pursuits seven hours a day and 42 hours a week, was passed. Mrs. Van Wyke, Cincinnati representative, sponsored an amendment making the minimum 14 instead of 12 years, but it was voted down. The Bloom bill also provides that school certificates are unnecessary during vacation.

The house committee on labor recommended for passage the bill by Representative Rebmman of Cincinnati, and backed by both organized labor and employers, increasing awards under the workmen's compensation act.

The committee also recommended for passage the joint resolution, also introduced by Rebmman, proposing a constitutional amendment to abolish the "open liability" clause and permit, instead of letting injured employees have recourse to the courts, the industrial commission to increase the awards when death or injury results from failure of employer to comply with the lawful requirements as to safe-guarding employees.

POLICE LOOING FOR POISONERS OF DOGS IN CITY

Police are looking for another "meanest man" or maybe it is a woman. He or she is the person who has been poisoning dogs all over the city.

Reports at Police Headquarters show that at least a dozen dogs have been poisoned in Xenia since last Sunday. Many of them have been family pets and canines of considerable value.

The majority of the canines that have been poisoned were the property of north end residents. One or two of them have been discovered in time to permit the owner to administer an antidote and save the animal.

On the basis that the dog is "man's best friend," owners of the dogs poisoned maintain that the poisoner gets the "meanest person" title.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF DAUGHERTY BRINGS FORTH CRITICISM

Anti-Attorney General Fac- tion Scores Act as Not Timely.

St. Augustine, Fla., March 29.—President Harding's vacation party has been enlivened in its closing stages by an acrimonious dispute between some of his political advisers, over the now famous Daugherty announcement of the Harding candidacy in 1924. The end of the row did not appear in sight today. The dispute within the Republican family circle is not over the accuracy of the attorney general's pronouncement, for all factions are agreed that the president will be a candidate to succeed himself; it concerns solely the political strategy of making such an important announcement at this time, a year before the primaries.

Friends of the attorney general take the position that the announcement at this time affords a much needed clarification of the political atmosphere, which already was beginning to cloud up with a half dozen incipient presidential booms getting under way within the president's own party. They contend, too, that no harm can result from publicly stating something that all of them recognize privately, that Mr. Harding will accept a renomination at the hands of the next Republican national convention.

Those unfriendly to the attorney general, and some of this opposition dates back to the Harding pre-convention campaign—characterize the Daugherty announcement as "a gross political blunder," and "political strategy of the worst sort." From now on, they contend, the President is a candidate and his every executive act will be taxed with that brush. Furthermore, they contend, when the President makes his swing around the West, this summer, he will appear as a candidate seeking re-election rather than a President of the United States making a perfectly proper observation tour of the vast country over which he holds executive sway, all because of the Daugherty announcement.

CHARGE ATTEMPT TO INFLUENCE VOTE
Sandusky, March 29.—Charges that an effort was made to influence his vote in the matter of the purchase of truck for city use were made today by City Commissioner J. Frank Donahue, who declared that a Sandusky man had offered him "whiskey and champagne and more when it's gone," if he would favor the type of truck he recommended.

Donahue promises to "tell an interesting story" in investigations both city and county authorities promise immediately.

SCHOONER AGROUND.

Boston, Mass., March 29.—An unidentified five masted schooner was aground at Chatham today. She is said to carry a crew of fifteen men. The coast guard cutter Acushnet has gone to her assistance. A forty-two mile wind is blowing and the vessel is believed to be going to pieces.

GIRL TO WED AN EARL.

London, March 29.—Jessica Brown left for home on the Olympic to prepare for her marriage with the Earl of Northesk. Before leaving she emphatically denied reports from New York that she was married to a Spanish nobleman in 1918. The Earl of Northesk escorted her from the Waterloo station to the boat train, where he kissed her farewell promising to see her in New York within a month. The young peer reiterated his determination to marry the American girl despite strong parental objections, and said that nothing would be able to keep them apart.

SIXTY-MILE GALE SWEEPS NEW YORK

New York, March 29.—New York today was in the icy clutch of the coldest March weather on record and a 60-mile gale made it seem colder. The thermometer fell to the low level at six o'clock this morning, when it reached nine above zero, a drop of 27 degrees from 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The previous low record for March was 19 degrees, established March 28, 1873.

Northern New York reported snow and the cold wave extended into New England and west into Indiana and Ohio. With the passing of the ture was forecast.

NINETY HOUSES ARE DESTROYED IN NEW ENGLAND

Mile of Nantasket Beach Laid Waste in Conflagra- tion Wednesday Night

SEVEN ARE INJURED

Loss Caused by Blaze is

Estimated at Close to Million Dollars

Roscon, Mass., March 29.—About a mile of Nantasket Beach, a great summer resort for New England people, was laid waste last night and early today by the most disastrous fire in the history of the beach. About ninety houses were destroyed, several persons injured and about 150 made homeless by the conflagration. Damage is estimated at $1,000,000.

The flames were visible for miles and drew many spectators despite the cold. The flames were fanned by a northwest wind accompanied by intense cold. Low water pressure also handicapped the firemen. Aid was summoned from Boston and other places.

The flames started in the palm gardens at the park and quickly spread. Infantry from Fort Revere state constabulary and a detail of metropolitan police were rushed to the scene and assisted in handling the large crowd and caring for the homeless. The Salvation army furnished coffee for the firemen and the homeless.

None of the big hotels nor the five steamships of the Nantasket Beach line were damaged. About 50 men, women and children with all their belongings lost were cared for at the rectory of St. Mary's of the Assumption Church. The police station was completely destroyed.

LOBBYISTS SCORED BY SENATOR BURKE IN AN INTERVIEW

May be Candidate for Gov- ernor's Chair in Another Year.

Columbus, March 29.—"Truth and justice compel me to say that there has been no legislation enacted during the present session of the Ohio legislature—in fact none has passed the Senate—which was opposed by any of the lobbyists of privilege, who swarmed the State House with much more potency than they did two years ago," declared State Senator J. F. Burke, Elyria, today.

Senator Burke indicated that he may comply with the requests of his friends that as a progressive Republican he become a candidate for the G. O. P. gubernatorial nomination next year.

Whether the Republican party is of the people by the politicians for privilege, or whether it is of, by and for the people themselves, will be the issue in the next Republican Ohio campaign, Senator Burke believes.

Believing that "in all human probability," President Harding will be renominated, Senator Burke today voiced the opinion that it would be fit, wise and expedient if the president would become a potent factor in determining that the principles of "efficiency and not party organization, a living wage law for the women of Ohio and governmental service to all the people," shall prevail in deciding the party's choice for important offices in the state."

GIRL TO WED AN EARL.

London, March 29.—Jessica Brown left for home on the Olympic to prepare for her marriage with the Earl of Northesk. Before leaving she emphatically denied reports from New York that she was married to a Spanish nobleman in 1918. The Earl of Northesk escorted her from the Waterloo station to the boat train, where he kissed her farewell promising to see her in New York within a month. The young peer reiterated his determination to marry the American girl despite strong parental objections, and said that nothing would be able to keep them apart.

LOYD GEORGE "STOCK" AGAIN TAKES A JUMP

London, March 29.—Keep an eye on Lloyd George.

That is the advice that is now going around in the wise political circles in London.

Since the little Welshman left No. 10 Downing Street his stock has fluctuated wildly. At one time they were placing bets that he would be back in office within six months; later everyone predicted that "Lloyd George is through." Now his stock is on the upward trend again.

Everyone expects that Lloyd George is going to stage a miracle that will put him back in power.

Meanwhile the redoubtable little politician holds his silence.

"I feel like the boy who has just been birched and is getting a little consolation out of standing by and watching the next victim getting his taste of the rod and getting it in very strong doses," Lloyd George said, when he had been more or less pressed, in the hope that he might disclose his future plans.

The ex-Premier smiled and let his remark sink in and then added: "I have been enjoying myself thoroughly." He smiled again, his eyes twinkled, and the vigor that seemed so apparent, the spirit back of those twinkling eyes all seemed to predict that the ex-Premier does not intend to always be an "ex."

Lloyd George is just in his prime. His vacation from office has given him opportunity to rest and restore his jaded nerves. He is far from a defeated man. He rather impresses one as a man who is merely marking time waiting for the psychological moment preparatory to jumping into the fight again.

Bonar Law's Government has met with difficulties. Its future seems uncertain to say the least. The English public opinion is veering and shifting, and when it settles down to a steady blow there are probabilities that it will not blow in the Bonar Law direction.

Bonar Law has not had "Peace and tranquility." His regime has been one of great nervousness for the people. His foreign policy has not been as disturbing as the domestic policy. President cartooning of Bonar Law asleep has had its effect upon the people, despite the fact that Law has been a hard worker, but his work has been chiefly study.

There are many who believe that the English people have been educated up to an appreciation of spectacles and fireworks and that they miss these fireworks in the Bonar Law administration. If they do there is only one English statesman who can furnish them with the necessary pyrotechnics, and that is Lloyd George.

"Keep an eye on Lloyd George" is excellent advice.

MAN REPORTED SLATED FOR JOB

Haveth Mau, former prosecuting attorney of Montgomery County is said to be slated for appointment as first assistant to United States District Attorney, B. W. Hough.

Mau was mentioned for the district attorneyship before Judge Hough was appointed.

There will be three assistants on the staff and as Judge Hough will make his headquarters in Columbus, Mau if appointed, will probably have charge of the Cincinnati office.

Two Cincinnati attorneys, Robert Kramer, who served with Judge Hough when the latter was Colonel of the Rainbow Division overseas and A. Lee Beatty, who has the backing of the Hamilton County Republican organization, are slated for the positions of second and third assistants.

TO OPEN SERIES OF CHURCH SERVICE HERE

The Rev. J. B. McBride, of Pasadena, Calif., noted holiness evangelist and orator, will open a series of services at the Church of the Nazarene, Sunday, April 1.

The services will continue three weeks, during which the exercises will be held each evening at 7:30 o'clock, while Sunday services will be held at 10:30 o'clock in the morning, 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and seven o'clock in the evening.

The Rev. Mr. McBride preaches the word of God, justification, sanctification, divine healing and the second coming of Christ. His books will be on sale during his meetings here.

SPRING RUSH TO YUKON IS BEGUN

Dawson City, Yukon, Mar. 29.—The Spring rush for the Yukon started March 22 with the thawing out of the ice and snow here.

The overland trail from White Horse and Mayo, famous in the annals of the gold country, was lined with horse and dog teams. The "mushers" were bound northward to the White Pass shipyard, which are operating at full blast repairing the Upper Yukon River flotilla. A ten-ton caterpillar tractor with three trailers, hauling five tons of freight each, started over the trail from White Horse to Mayo, a distance of 200 miles, the first of its kind ever undertaken over the Yukon snows.

So many individual silver claims are producing more than paying ore in Keno Hill that every able-bodied man who could crowd a horse, dog team, automobile or sleigh into service is rushing toward Mayo to be on hand when the snows thaw.

It was expected that 5,000 tons would be transported by April 1.

HELD ON CHARGE

Ora Johnson, 45, was arrested at Spring Valley Wednesday night by Deputy Sheriffs John Baughn and George Spencer and is being held for Hamilton authorities.

A warrant for the arrest of Johnson on a charge of removing mortgaged property from Butler County was received Wednesday. Johnson is being held in the County Jail here awaiting the arrival of Butler County authorities.

CHICAGOANS PLAN FARM TO HARBOR CRIMINAL INSANE

Chicago, March 29.—Segregation of criminal defectives of Illinois will soon be accomplished, the opinion of Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Chicago Municipal Court.

Justice Olson has worked long for legislation which would provide for the removal of persons found to be mentally abnormal and whose presence is a menace to society.

If plans evolved by Justice Olson and incorporated in a measure to be presented to the State Legislature are realized, the State will provide a farm comprised of 1,000 acres, to be located near Chicago, where the criminal defectives of the State will be isolated.

The "farm," according to plans of the originator of the scheme, would be made as homelike as possible. Cottages would be provided for the segregated persons. All relatives would be given free access to the colony. The farm would be operated by the inmates. They would be kept busy at all times.

No effort will be made at this time, according to Justice Olson, to provide for sterilization of persons found criminally defective. He does advocate, however, amendment of the marriage laws of the State to prevent defectives from marrying.

In charge of the farm would be a physician skilled in treatment of mental disorders. All inmates would be afforded the best of medical attention at all times under the Olson plan.

Such inmates as might regain mental normalcy would be released from the farm thereupon.

Expense of maintaining the farm would be shared by the several counties of the State. The direct upkeep cost would be met by the State under the Chicagoan's plan. Clothing, transportation and incidental costs to be paid by the county from which the inmate was committed.

Officers of the law throughout the State would be authorized under the Olson proposal to hold without warrant any person escaped from the farm.

That the measure incorporating his segregation farm plan will be passed, Justice Olson is confident. A similar measure was adopted two years ago by the State with only two dissenting votes. It was vetoed by the Governor, however, for reason of failure to provide for a segregation farm.

Women's clubs and other civic organizations here devoted to public welfare are said to have heartily endorsed the Olson plan.

SPRING VALLEY

A union Easter Cantata under the leadership of Mr. William Copey will be given in the Methodist Church Sunday evening.

The Junior class of the High School will hold a box social Friday evening.

The Senior class play given last Friday evening was a decided success.

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Mason and two children and Mr. and Mrs. Herschell Carey of Dayton, were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mason.

Mr. and Mrs. Lacy of Wilmington, were guests Sunday of Mrs. Mattie Truman.

The annual Easter Market will be held in the Town Hall Saturday evening.

Complimenting Miss Eva Smith, of near Spring Valley, whose marriage to Mr. Lee Engle, of near here, will take place during March, Mrs. Herman Blair, and Mrs. Max Barnard entertained at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Herman Blair, Wednesday evening.

An advertising contest and pie contest were amusing features of the evening's entertainment. The guests were later invited into the dining room, where the presents received by the honor guest were displayed and a refreshment course served.

ANNUAL REPORTS GIVEN AT MISSIONARY MEETING

The March meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First United Presbyterian Church was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edwin Galloway on North Galloway Street.

Mrs. J. Harvey Nash, vice-president, presided at the meeting, the devotional exercises being in charge of Mrs. J. Carl Marshall, assisted by Mrs. M. A. Hagler.

The February reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and received as correct. Twenty-one members responded to the roll call with temperance items, selected by the temperance secretary, Mrs. J. G. Dixon.

The annual reports of the society featured the meeting, showing a successful season of work for the society during the past year. Mrs. C. H. Ervin, recording secretary, gave an interesting report of the work accomplished during the year. Among the unusual items reported by Mrs. Ervin was that not a death had occurred in the society's ranks, two members, Mrs. D. J. Addis and Mrs. Morton Dallas have given their residences. Two other members, Mrs. C. H. Ervin and Miss J. A. Carruthers had attended every meeting of the organization during the year. The treasurer, Mrs. M. A. Hagler gave an itemized report of the money received and disbursed, amounting to $250. Mrs. Emma McCalmont, thank offering secretary, and Mrs. Edwin Galloway, literary secretary, gave satisfactory reports. The Martin Finney fund, money paid by the Xenia Presbyterian to support two foreign missionaries was reported by Mrs. E. C. Moorman. Mrs. J. Carl Marshall, secretary of the Junior work reported $132 received by that department during the year.

Mrs. E. H. Carruthers, publicity secretary presented her report.

The meeting adjourned with the Lord's prayer. A social time was enjoyed, masses of flowers giving a spring touch to the rooms of the Galloway home. Mrs. Galloway was assisted by Mrs. Adda Bailey, Mrs. M. A. Hagler and Mrs. Luella Jackson.

MARRIAGE SOLEMNIZED WEDNESDAY EVENING

The marriage of Miss Almada E. Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Allen of 319 West Third Street, and Mr. Alfred H. Schramm, of Wilmington, was solemnized at the parsonage of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock, the Rev. G. A. Scott officiating.

The couple was unattended, the simple ring ceremony being used. The bride's costume was of taupe her coat, dress hat and footwear being of the same shade.

Following their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Schramm left for a short wedding trip, and upon their return will go to housekeeping in Wilmington, where Mr. Schramm is engaged as a jeweler and optician.

Mrs. Schramm's marriage is of interest to a large circle of friends in the city, where she is well known. Until her marriage she has been employed as bookkeeper at the wholesale grocery firm of H. E. Schmidt.

MAKE PLANS AT MISSIONARY MEETING.

Arrangements for the annual congregational dinner, of the First Reformed Church, to be held next week, were laid at the all-day meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of that church, held in the church parlors, Tuesday. Other business transacted at the meeting included plans for the general synod to be held next May.

About 65 women attended the meeting, spending the day sewing for the Social Service League. A delicious covered dish dinner was served at noon.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Members of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian Church, were entertained at the home of Mrs. John Prugh, on North Galloway Street, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Paul D. Espey, Mrs. J. W. Santmyer, and Miss Margaret Clark, assisted Mrs. Prugh in the entertainment of her guests.

Mr. Thomas E. Cummings, of West Second Street, suffered an attack of heart failure, Thursday morning, and his condition is thought to be serious.

Miss Ella Ambuhl and Miss Faye Cavanaugh went to Columbus Tuesday where they attended the lecture on "Democracy and Education" given by Dallas Lore Sharp of Boston University, who spoke at the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium under the auspices of the English Club of Columbus. Miss Ambuhl and Miss Cavanaugh are both members of the Columbus Club.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darks the hair beautifully besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

TABER GIVES TALK BEFORE BELLBROOK GRANGE MEMBERS

I. J. Taber, of Columbus and Barnesville, former state secretary of agriculture, former State Grange Master and now vice president and traveling manager of the Ohio-Pennsylvania Farm Loan Bank, gave an interesting address at the meeting of Bellbrook Grange Tuesday evening.

The meeting was to have been addressed by Mrs. Lulu Vandenberg, of Zanesville wife of the state grange secretary, but when she was unable to attend she asked Mr. Taber to take her place. A large crowd of Bellbrook members as well as visitors from other Granges attended the meeting.

Mr. Taber told the Grangers present that he realized more than ever the difficulty in making money farming now, and declared that every month he had to take money out of his salary to balance his farm accounts. He operates fine dairy farm at his home near Barnesville.

Under the head of bettering agriculture, Mr. Taber brought out five distinct points. The first he said was the problem of wise production. He pointed out that farmers should be careful not to raise products they are not fitted to cultivate, a situation which occurs in many parts of the state he said.

His second point was the problem of orderly marketing in which he pointed out the necessity of a co-op system in farmers getting their product before the consumer.

The proper financing of farm business, he said, is a third point. He pointed out that the federal reserve banking system is the greatest financial system ever instituted, but that the fact that farmers are in the midst of their greatest depression, showed that this system did not reach the farmers. The farm loan bank system alleviates this condition he said.

The conservation of waste is a fourth point, said the speaker. He pointed out the millions of acres of land in southern Ohio which he said the Lord never intended should be farmed, but which farmers are trying to cultivate without success. This land should be planted in trees he said, and declared that he considered with pride his success while director of agriculture in causing to be set aside a great amount of land for reforestation.

Mr. Taber's last point was taxation and the reduction of government costs. The question is a simple and easy one he said, but politicians and wealthy people will not let it be so. Years ago, the speaker said, practically all wealth was represented in land, and its taxation was fair and equitable. Now he said land only represents 47 per cent of the wealth but it pays 90 per cent of the taxes. Mr. Taber who has been a great exponent of the income tax, illustrated with the story of Jackie Coogan, the boy movie star, drawing $500,000 a year. In closing Mr. Taber urged the banding together of farmers to help work out these problems.

HARDING MAY ATTEND.

STOP DISEASE BEFORE IT STARTS

Most contagious diseases gain entrance through the mouth and throat and tend to destroy the body germs and kills the disease before it is started in many cases.

Here hide the disease germs that wait for a chance to spread their ravaging coughs, colds, flu, pneumonia, bronchitis.

To avoid such disease many authorities advise a simple antiseptic mouth rinse used daily, made of an effective substance such as Denta Caps, which anyone can get from any good druggist.

Empty a capsule in warm water and make an antiseptic mouth rinse

THE SUGAR PANIC.

Secretary Hoover says there is no actual shortage of sugar. Some of the sugar lords studying the Cuban crop prospects and the world situation agree with him. The Department of Commerce says the world will have an actual surplus of 476,000 tons this year, less than one-third of its recent carry-overs, but enough to check any buyer's panic.

Nevertheless, there is a panic, and sugar is walking up toward war prices. Housewives are paying nine, ten and even more cents per pound for sugar. Sugar hoarders are starting to hoard, spurred on in some instances by the retailers. Everything is all set for a run-away market.

Why? There are several reasons. Yes, the tariff is one of them. Disagreement among the sugar prophets over the possible or probable shortage is another. The matter goes deeper, however, than the tariff or the clash of the prophets.

It is a fact that for two years sugar interests have been muttering that prices were too low. There has been a "build up" for an increase under way a long time. The whispering campaign that has produced a temporary sugar shortage began some time in 1922. Sugar folk were chiding higher prices as 1922 ended. In January, 1923, predictions of shortage were plentiful. The stage was being set.

On February 9 the break the gamblers were waiting for came. A misleading, easily misread Department of Commerce statement gave the impression that world demand would call for 725,000 tons more of raw sugar than were in sight. Straightway the heavy users of sugar, including the candy and confectionery interests, panicked all over the place. They hit the market with all the money they could scrape to take care of their summer requirements.

It is easy to spread a panic. The sugar gamblers leaped to it. They had the herd of buyers on the run and they have kept them there. In a few days the panic had swept through the big buyers, the wholesalers, jobbers and retailers to the consumer. The housewife began buying and the laws of available supply and panicky demand began working overtime. The prices went rocketing and sky-hooting.

The new tariff helped as a kind of a smoke screen for the drive. In trying to take care of American sugar interests in Cuba and his beet-growing folk out West, Senator Smoot had cut the corners a bit sharply. This also helped the merry gamblers when they reached for the sugar supply and shot prices toward the blue empyrean.

However, the panic is slowing down. The public is "on." Prices have sagged a little. Claus Spreckels, who knows a thing or so about sugar, has warned that all the sugar industry can do is to explain prices, as it cannot justify them. The gamblers will do well to listen.—Public Ledger.

CHILDREN TO ROLL EGGS EASTER MONDAY AT WHITE HOUSE, THOUGH HARDING IS AWAY

Despite the absence of President Harding and Mrs. Harding, there will be no interference this year with the annual Easter Monday egg-rolling on the White House lawn. Announcement was made that all children under ten years old would be admitted to the south inclosure that day and that adults would be barred unless accompanied by a youngster of the proper age.

Easter Monday is children's day in fact. It usually looks as if all the children in Washington and a considerable number of visitors were heading for the White House if rain doesn't spoil the fun.

In recent years the police have had to detail extra men to keep the streets about the White House clear and prevent automobile accidents.

Another duty which has fallen on the officers since the number of children has become so great is to see that adults without proper credentials didn't get in and crowd the children out.

Due to that, some of the smarter boys have found Easter Monday an extremely profitable source of revenue. By making headquarters near the White House, they have been able to conduct several sets of parents or relatives into the grounds at so much a parent or relative, until their frequent appearance with new kinfolk impressed itself on the guard.

Right after the Harding regime began, when the White House had been forbidden territory for so long, the premium which these youngsters were able to collect ran as high as fifty cents a person, which made the day's work exceedingly profitable.

THE BANDIT PROBLEM.

The bandits who rob banks and payrolls and hold up jewelers in bright daylight are not confined to the movies. The cities are full of them today. Hardly a paper can be opened without an account of some such daring robbery. It makes the reader wonder whether all the civic authorities are asleep, or busy playing politics.

But there are other considerations. These bandits are almost all young. Their ages seem to range from nineteen through the early twenties. Most of them are due for lives of crime, with vacations in penal institutions in between depredations.

The schools, of course, have something to answer for, in that they did not make honest work sufficiently interesting, and did not provide a wholesome respect for discipline.

But back of the schools, for six years, the mothers reigned over the souls of these boys. The foundations of discipline, of self-control, of co-operating with others for the common good, of despising cruelty and dishonesty, are laid in these years. This may seem an exaggeration, but ask any psychologist—observe with the seeing eye the children of your own neighborhood.

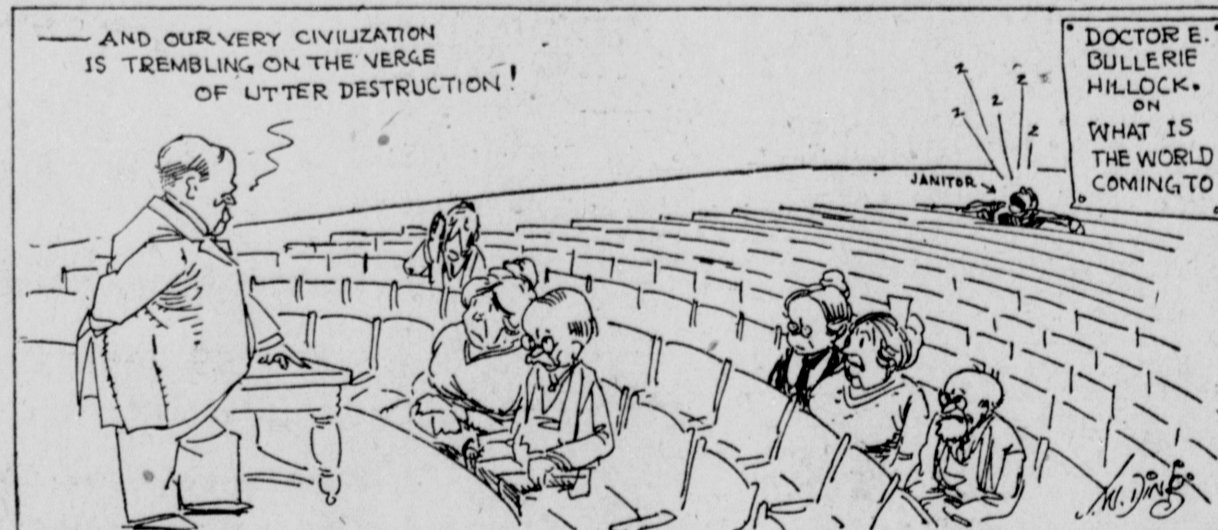

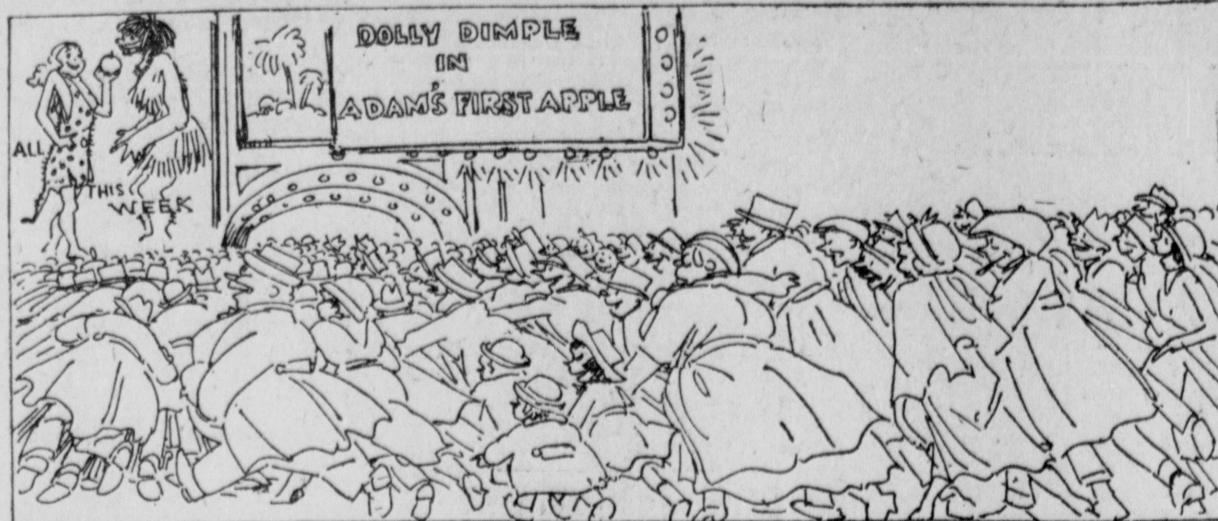

Were these mothers too overworked to pay any attention to the moral development of their children. If so, society is somewhat to blame. Society means everybody.

Catching these lads and imprisoning them isn't going to cure the evil. Something has got to be done to prevent the growth of the next crop.

IN BLEEDING KANSAS.

"I have seen Kansas so dry," says T. A. McNeal, author of "When Kansas Was Young," that you had to prime the mourners at a funeral to make them weep. I have seen it so wet the ducks mired in the prairies and the water backed up against the barbed wire fences. I have seen it so cold that Greenland had nothing on us. I have seen it so hot that evangelists were unable to work up any enthusiasm telling of the fiery regions below. If all the wheat grown in Kansas since it achieved statehood were ground into flour and made into doughnuts, the 10,000,000 negroes in this country could stand in the hole in the center and by the time they had eaten their way out the race problem would be solved."

WONDER IF EINSTEIN'S THEORY OF RELATIVITY CAN EXPLAIN THIS?

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

The regular daily circulation of the Xenia Gazette is now nearly 2400 and the tide is rising fast. There is rarely a day or a week that it has not made some gain.

Mr. Ernest Schmidt is home from Gambier for his Easter vacation.

One of the most interesting exhibits ever made in Xenia will be presented to the public for three days at the Cornwell hardware store, where carriages, surreys, phaetons, etc., will be shown.

There are now one hundred vehicles at the store.

About the busiest place imaginable just now is at the overhead bridge of the Pan Handle on Detroit Street. There are two stationary engines and derricks being put up to move the heavy stone and iron beams. The workmen must remove the old bridge and put in a new one and at the same time the street below must not be blocked and there must be no delay of trains.

Fashion papers have recently been saying that the slim, flat boyish figure is going out of favor. Slim my lady must be to wear the newest styles, but with well rounded bust and hips. The recent excitement over the discovery at Luxor of the treasures of Tutankhamen, will have its effect on fashions and therefore on figures, for figures are made to fit the clothes nowdays. A few Parisian designers indeed, are already playing up the Egyptian motif. Flimsy, floating draperies with heavy jeweled ornaments for contrast require a well developed figure.

So no doubt the woman who has tried conscientiously to suppress the fact that she possessed a bust will now wonder whether drinking milk and taking exercises will not give her greater roundness. It probably will, so here are a few suggestions.

Lie down with the head slightly lower than the body, raise the arms and breathe in slowly and steadily and as fully as possible. Lower the arms sideways, at the same time breathing out slowly. Close the hands and bring them to a point immediately in front of the arm pits. You will feel this over all the muscles of the chest and bust. Repeat a dozen times.

While still lying in this position raise the arms as high as possible then move them back over the head, keeping the elbows straight and clasping the hands. Inhale while doing this and exhale as the arms are brought back to their first position. Repeat this a dozen times.

Three times a week bathe the bust with very warm water and massage gently but thoroughly with olive oil or warm cocoa butter. This should be done at night and the bust bathed in the morning with cold water. Fatening drinks also help.

G. B.—As you are so many pounds underweight you probably need building up. This would account for the poor quality of your hair and the fallow skin. It would be best to have your doctor prescribe for you but you can help yourself also by eating such foods as will nourish you without taxing the digestion. If olive oil

Paris City of Venders; Hundreds Swarm Streets

Paris, March 27.—Paris is a city of street vendors.

From the little merchants, with or without stands or carts, almost anything from risqué pictures to classical books and canary birds may be purchased.

Most numerous of all the vendors, however, are the vegetables, merchants both men and women, who early every morning, in all seasons, may be seen pushing or pulling their carts loaded with vegetables to their appointed places.

Girls With "Knees Out" Barred as Teachers in Defiance, O., Schools

Defiance, Ohio, March 27.—"No girl with her knees sticking out below her dresses need apply to me to teach," declared County School Superintendent William L. Manahan, addressing a joint meeting of school board members of Defiance County. Superintendent Manahan said he favors dress reform among the teaching staff.

Today's Talk

CRUTCHES AND MASKS

Most of us wear "false faces," and conceal under our arms a perfectly balanced pair of well seasoned crutches—invisible, of course, but nevertheless looked upon as quite dependable.

It is the exception to meet a frank person, one who speaks right into your eyes and who is honest in this expression.

And yet how much nearer you get to such a one. You immediately step up just a little closer that you may miss nothing from such a mind.

It doesn't take much to melt away the veneer from the average poseur.

And he who carries crutches gets them knocked from under him all too soon.

For the fact of life is that we are all the time telegraphing Fate to our outcome by what we are—be that honest or assumed.

The "painted lady" would look a transformed human being in kitchen garb, washing dishes! The bricklayer, the scrub woman, the fighter in the first line, wear no masks, need no crutches. They are what they are.

The Rich Young Ruler who became fascinated with the personality of Christ, could not deceive this great student of human nature. Go back, said He, sell all that you have and then come back and you will be ready to become a partner in service with Me.

You see the Rich Young Ruler wore the false face of Money Love. He who stands upon his own legs needs to ask odds of no man. You admire that strong man? He wears no mask. He has no crutches. Be yourself—and be proud of the fact. You have a personality that was meant to be developed. It's the one thing that you cannot borrow from anyone or anywhere. And what you are, it has made you.

Plan Paris Theater for English-Speaking Stage

Paris, March 27.—Americans and Englishmen in Paris will soon be able to attend plays produced in their native tongue if the project of establishing a permanent English theater can be worked out.

Edwin R. Wolfe, director of the "Six Americans" Company, which recently produced "Her Husband's Wife," is encouraging interest in the project.

BAKERS HELD PROFITEERS

Paris, March 26.—Fourteen master bakers were held for trial today on a charge of organizing last December to force up the price of bread. The defendants include officers of the Master Bakers' Association, which staged the short-lived strike which ended when the government began to establish army bake shops in Paris and the population broke a few windbags of the bakeries.

DR. FESS RELATES HIS EXPERIENCES IN U. S. CONGRESS

Personal experiences and an interesting explanation of the operation of both houses of Congress, were given by Senator S. D. Fess of Yellow Springs in his address to Masonic Club members Wednesday evening in the Masonic lodge rooms.

Senator Fess talked on the subject "Ten Years in Congress," and his address was more or less of a personal nature, dealing with the manner of procedure of the legislators, interspersed with many interesting sidelights on some of the leaders of both parties in the national bodies. The now-famous "blocc system" was explained interestingly to the Masons by Ohio's west Senator, who told that the system meant in Congress, and its origin. The name, he said, was created by a newspaper, and was from then on continually applied to the different so-called "bloccs" among the legislators. Personal sidelights on Uncle Joe Cannon and other celebrities added an interesting touch to Dr. Fess' remarks.

Senator Fess did not refer at the meeting to the investigation of an anonymous letter which he received, and which he is attempting to trace to earth through the postal department. He touched slightly on Americanism in his closing remarks. No reference was made to the letter addressed to Dr. Fess by Governor Al Smith of New York, which the Senator said Thursday he had not yet received.

Senator Fess was introduced by Dr. A. C. Messenger president of the club, who acted as chairman of the meeting and who also introduced George Little, chairman of the finance committee of the Masonic Temple Association and A. E. Faulkner president of that Association, who talked briefly concerning the proposed temple and plans for financing it.

The addresses followed a chicken dinner served by Jacob Kany the club chef to an unusually large attendance. Members of the club, including new members taken in Wednesday evening numbered about 250 at the gathering. Preceding the dinner an informal reception was held for Senator Fess in the lodge parlors.

TALKS ON WORK IN COURT HOUSE BEFORE GRANGE

Clerk of Courts Harvey Elam gave an interesting explanation of the operation of his office in the Court House at the meeting of Pomona Grange, held in Chas. Grange Hall, on the Dayton and Xenia pike, Wednesday.

The meeting was well attended, and opened with a business session in the morning, which included the exemplification of the fifth degree on 29 candidates, the degree work being put on by officers of Pomona Grange. Mr. Elam's address was the feature of the program after-dinner.

Divorce cases occupy a large proportion of the legal business which burdens the docket in the Clerk's office.

FOR MOTHERS!

This Letter is of Vital Interest to You

Cambridge, Ohio—"During expectancy I was almost a physical wreck. I was nervous, could not sleep, suffered with nausea, or sick stomach, had backaches, pains in my side and bearing pains. I was so near down that I could not do anything. Finally I decided to give Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a trial. I had taken this medicine only a few days when I could see that my nerves were better, and by the time I had taken two bottles I felt as well as anyone could wish to be, did all my work and felt well and strong the remainder of the time. I had comparatively no suffering—was ill just a short time and I had a very fine healthy baby weighing nine pounds. The expectant mother will find 'Favorite Prescription' a great help in many ways."—Mrs. Milton Tipton, 707 S. 10th St.

Go to your neighborhood drug store today and get this prescription in tablets or liquid, or write Dr. Pierce, President Invalids' Hotel, in Buffalo, N. Y., for medical advice. It is free and strictly confidential.

He gave many amusing incidents that came up in this connection and explained the jury system and how the juries were drawn.

An appeal to people to respond to the call for jury duty and not attempt to shirk this service, was also included in Mr. Elam's address. In concluding he also made an appeal for law and order, alleging that there does not seem to be the respect for law that there used to be and urging more earnest recognition of the statutes.

Mr. Elam's address took the place of the scheduled talk by Mrs. Lulu Vanderbark, of Zanesville, wife of the state grange secretary, who was unable to be present.

The afternoon program also included readings and music and a discussion of the schools and the fair exhibit.

A committee headed by S. H. Shawhan, of Beaver Grange, and including John Short, of Xenia Grange and Albert Jones of Caesar Creek Grange, will attempt to swing all farm organizations in the County together for one big picnic instead of the numerous small picnics held in the past. The Farm Bureau and other organizations will be consulted in the effort to unite the picnics this year. The committee will report at the next Pomona Grange meeting which will be held in Fairfield the first Wednesday in June.

HOPES EXCEEDED AS RHEUMATISM IS KNOCKED OUT

"I heard so much about Tanlac overcoming stomach trouble and indigestion, I thought it might help my rheumatism, too, but I didn't dream it would give me such complete relief," said Mrs. Alice A. Dice, 1504 3rd St., S. E., Canton, Ohio, recently.

"The rheumatism came on suddenly and was all over me almost before I realized I was in its grip. It soon had me in dreadful pain and misery and so crippled up I was almost deprived of the use of my limbs. Mornings I simply couldn't get out of bed without assistance and I felt weak and run-down in every way.

"But all that is over now, and after taking three bottles of Tanlac, there isn't any soreness in my muscles or joints, my limbs are perfectly supple, and I never feel an ache or pain. Tanlac is really and truly such a grand medicine I wish every sufferer would try it."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35 million bottles sold. adv.

GETTING UP NIGHTS

nals. E. E. Mullen Tells

E. E. Mullen, No. Kenova, Ohio, says: "For 10 years I have been troubled with kidneys and bladder. I had to get up 5 or 6 times each night. I had taken many kinds of medicine, but Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula) is the only kind that gave me any relief. My bladder is normal and I have only used the remedy for three weeks. If you want further facts, write me." Lithiated Buchu (Keller formula) acts on the kidneys and bladder like Epsom Salts on the bowels. It cleans them out, relieving the bladder of many abnormal deposits. These tablets cost 2c apiece. The price makes it possible to place in the formula several drugs which are useful for relief. The formula is on the package. It is not likely you have ever taken anything similar. Try a few tablets for backache, scalding, scanty or high-colored urine, and frequent desire at night. Be sure to get the Keller formula Lithiated Buchu at all drug stores, or write Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, O., or locally at Sayre and Hemphill. Adv.

Mother-To-Be, Read This—

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers. When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined.

An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend."

Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first child I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

Note: Write for valuable, free illustrated book, "Motherhood and the Baby," containing important authoritative information which every expectant mother should have, and all about "Mother's Friend," to Bradford Regulator Company, P. O. 23, Atlanta, Ga. "Mother's Friend" is sold by druggists.

It is substantially made and handsomely nickelplated. It is 6-7 inches in diameter, 3-5 inches high. Furnished complete with 6 feet of heavy, black extension cord and standard 2-piece socket.

FOR COFFEE

For the hasty breakfast the Rogers Electro Hot Plate is a decided convenience. A turn of the switch and the coffee is ready before you have finished dressing. Equally effective when you want a cup of chocolate after the show or tea in the afternoon for callers.

FOR BOILING

In a surprisingly short time the Rogers Electro Hot Plate will give you boiling hot water for eggs or tea. Always ready to heat baby's milk or furnish hot water for shaving.

FOR TOAST

The most delicious toast is quickly prepared on the Rogers Electro Hot Plate. Can also be used to take the chill out of the small bedroom or bathroom.

FOR FRYING

It's no trick at all to fry eggs, steaks or chops on the Rogers Electro Hot Plate. All the heat is concentrated on the bottom of the pan where you need it and the results are quick and satisfactory.

LANCASHIRE'S COTTON TRADE IN POOR SHAPE

Manchester, Eng., March 29.—So bad is the position of the cotton trade in Lancashire that four-fifths of the firms using American yarn are starting to run half time.

This drastic cut is the result of a recommendation by the Master Cotton Spinners' Federation. This body asked all firms using American cotton to cut down work by 50 per cent during the month of March. Their recommendation was accepted in Manchester by the Cotton Spinners and Manufacturers' Association.

The suggestion has also been made that those members of the association who have both looms and spindles, and who have been selling some portion of their production in the open market, should fall in with the recommendation by making the equivalent stoppage of their spindles in the American section, in respect of that which in competition with that of members who spin for sale only.

Manchester spinners declare that the position has never been so hopeless as it is to-day. With cotton at its present price—approximately eleven cents dearer than this time last year—it is difficult, in the opinion of the trade, to see how the market, already impoverished, can take any profits.

Apart from the question of the increased price of raw material, cost of production still remains high, and until a cheaper article is produced it is difficult to see how it can be sold.

Opinion among spinners is almost unanimous that the 50 per cent cut on American cotton for one month will not be sufficient. Some mills, it is asserted, have been stopped for nine out of the last twelve months, and a 50 per cent cut is thought to be useless to restore margins in yarn.

Miss Rosalie Hollingshead of Cincinnati schools, will spend Easter week-end at her home on Lower Bellbrook pike.

PARIS PAYS FOR ACTRESS' FUNERAL

Paris, March 29.—The French government having refused to sanction a national funeral for Sara Bernhardt, her obsequies today were superintended and paid for by the city of Paris.

This morning the coffin was taken from the house to the church of St. Francis nearby, where a brief service was held. Only intimate friends, the family and civil dignitaries were admitted to the church. After the church ceremony the procession proceeded 11 miles through Paris boulevards to the Pere La Chaise cemetery, where the tomb which Sara designed for herself awaited her remains. In compliance with the dying request of the actress, no speeches were made.

The Bernhardt tomb is of the simplest form. Only the single word, "Bernhardt," is engraved on the stone. The arch will bear no date.

Speed Mania in Girls and Babies the Same Psychologist Asserts

Reno, Nev., March 29.—"Take a year-old baby. Put it in a baby buggy and push the buggy, at a rapid rate. The youngster will gurgle and chortle with glee."

"Take an 18-year-old girl. Put her in a fast automobile and stop on the gas. You'll get practically the same results."

So says James R. Young, professor of psychology at the University of Nevada.

"It is the primitive love of speed handed down through centuries in the evolution of the human race," he says.

Scot, oo, Takes a Sip From Flask on the Hip

London, March 29.—Even in "wet" Scotland they have their "hip-pocket" bars. Arguing against licensing resolutions, Mitchell Banks told the Westminster Licensing Sessions that "the result of restriction in the form of local option in Scotland is every man has a hip-pocket and is a pathetic public house in himself."

CRABBE WILL STAY OUT OF CONTROVERSY

Columbus, March 29.—Attorney General Crabbe will not take any action in the case of the Eastern Ohio Gas company of Cleveland, against which complaints have been filed, alleging violation of the anti-trust laws. The people of Cleveland and the gas company which supplies that city have had differences extending over a period of years, and recently the courts have conceded the company's right to turn off gas May 1, if its rates are not paid by Cleveland consumers. Certain consumers now seek to strike at the company by attempting to have the state bring ouster proceedings, claiming that the Standard Oil company owns most of its stock and that it is an illegal combination in restraint of trade. Attorney General Crabbe said he did not see sufficient evidence or circumstances to warrant any action in the case.

CHESTERTON RAPS U. S. PROHIBITION

London, March 29.—"Prohibition is anti-Christian and anti-social, and because America has prohibition she must not hide herself up as an ideal for the rest of the world," G. K. Chesterton declares.

Chesterton asserts that he was given wine and cocktails in large quantities when he last visited America, and on all sides he saw secrecy, hypocrisy and treason against the law.

"We are asked to follow with reverence America's example. They burn negroes alive in that country, and, although I am not pharisaical about that, I refuse to admit that a society in which a vast crowd of people can meet together while a man in evening dress sets fire to a negro and roasts him alive, has the right to set himself up as an exemplar of morality to the world."

"Prohibition is the sacrificing of a mass of normal people to a lot of abnormal people."

KING OF SIAM WEDS DANCING GIRL

This is the first picture to reach America of the King of Siam and his bride, who is a member of the royal dancing ballet. The romance of the King

A Debt That Society Owes Maturity

We ask of the modern professor the exercise of the highest human attributes—conscience, high thinking, a devotion to high ideals, learning, constructive talents and the genius to teach and train our sons and daughters to be the future leaders of the nation.

His value to the World is incomparable, yet he is often condemned to scarcity or even poverty, while his students go out to rewards only limited by ability and effort.

On account of meager salaries these devotees to the cause of higher education seldom have an opportunity to save enough for the "rainy day." By serving as teacher, guide and friend to thousands of our boys and girls, they are raising the seed corn of the World, but getting little or none of the harvest.

Society demands 100% efficiency from University professors, therefore society should provide endowment funds that will permit the payment of living incomes during the long years of sacrificing service and insure reasonable retirement allowances for declining years of unemployment.

How the Ohio Wesleyan Development Program Provides for This Necessity

To provide funds for instruction and building needs that have grown out of the much enlarged student body and out of greatly changed social, economic and educational conditions, the Ohio Wesleyan Development Program involving the raising of $8,000,000 is presented to those thousands who appreciate the World's need of Christian education, and are willing to translate their sympathies into financial action.

The Pensions item of $300,000 in this Development Program, will when safely invested, insure an annual income of about $15,000 to be used as a Pension Fund for retired professors.

This is an object that should strongly appeal to every thoughtful person, because these national character moulders often spend a lifetime of service at salaries that barely permit them to obtain the necessities of life, let alone enjoy any of the luxuries.

SPRING FESTIVAL AND MARDI GRAS COMING IN APRIL

Arrangements were completed Wednesday night for the promotion of a Spring Festival and Mardi Gras to be given under the joint auspices of the Daughters of America and Xenia Council, No. 67, Jr. Order, United American Mechanics.

The spring carnival will be held at the Rink between the dates of April 21 to April 28, including two Saturday nights. The entire program of entertainment has not been definitely decided upon but the committee selected is assuring the public that an interesting entertainment may be expected.

The door admission of ten cents will entitle those attending to all the free acts inside the Rink, in addition to numerous industrial displays representing the products of Xenia manufacturers and merchants. Just what the decoration scheme will be is being kept a secret by the committee, which refuses to reveal plans. A combination merchandise ticket being solicited through the courtesy of local merchants and business men and will be placed on sale by members of the organization at ten cents each. The ticket will contain a largely varied line of merchandise and prices.

It is planned to open the festival with a street parade Saturday night and several nights will be set aside for the Mardi Gras when prizes will be awarded to the most comical and best masked participants, which will add greatly to interest in the affair.

MALARIA GERM IS FOUND CURE FOR PARALYSIS

Edinburgh, March 26.—The success of a new treatment for general paralysis of the insane by inoculation with malarial has led to a discovery which may revolutionize the science of medicine.

Put shortly, it is nothing more than the playing off of one disease against another. The discoverer is Professor Robertson, of Edinburgh. The fact that every poison has an antidote capable of cancelling its destructive power has long been known but now it would seem that doctors are on the border of hitherto unsuspected scientific territory.

Experiment over a long period have proved successful in the treatment of general paralysis of the insane by malaria. The process is that the paralytic is injected with living germs taken from a patient suffering from malaria. The result is an attack of malaria which, after it has run its course, leaves the patient free from his original disease.

It is not merely a process of help.

ing the cure of a disease by sending aid to the army of phagocytes already fighting the battle of health. The new method goes much further than this.

It actually sets one disease against another in the patient's body, so that in the battle forthcoming both may go down to defeat in mutual destruction. British doctors believe that the discovery may inaugurate a new era in medical science and may even lead eventually to the extermination of disease. But, of course, years of patient and exhaustive inquiry will be necessary.

Mrs. Buzzi Re-arrested in Schneider Murder

Mrs. Anna Buzzi.

This photograph of Mrs. Anna Buzzi was taken at the time of her second arrest in New York City charged with the murder of Millionaire Contractor Frederick Schneider, with whom she lived. She was held as a material witness at the time of the killing, but released on bond. Clever detective work by New York detectives ascertained that the pistol found alongside Schneider's body when he was slain in his automobile belonged to Mrs. Buzzi's brother-in-law, and he confessed he gave it to her two days before the killing.

SAYS EXPERTS WASTING TIME ON HELICOPTER

London, March 23.—While the aeronautical world spends its energy and resources upon the perfecting of the helicopter it might be working to greater advantage in other fields of aviation.

This is the conclusion drawn from statements made by Major F. M. Green, Fellow the Royal Aeronautical Society.

"I am convinced that the power expended in flight in a helicopter, flying at speeds found to be useful for aeroplanes, will be very much greater than for the aeroplane and I believe that, apart from all other disadvantages, this fact alone will render the machine quite impossible for passenger carrying—at any rate until engines of much greater strength are available," Major Green said.

SEES LITTLE FUTURE

"It seems that as a means of air travel the helicopter has little or no future and the fact that it may be possible to rise and land in confined spaces is of little value if the ability to fly from place to place at reasonable speed is absent. In itself the advantage of a vertical rise and fall is unlikely to be as great as might be supposed. The difficulty of effecting a landing of a direct lift machine in a wind is certain to be great. In the ordinary aeroplane the presence of a wind is certain to be great. In the ordinary aeroplane the presence of a wind helps rather than hinders matters both in getting off and alighting. The case of the helicopter is worse than that of the alighting, where considerable skill is necessary to effect safe landing in a high wind.

"Another aspect of safety is the question of stability. It is, of course, possible to make an ordinary airplane stable in flight and so long as the pilot is not undertaking any severe maneuver, such as is sometimes made necessary by engine failure, the risk of accident from loss of stability is unimportant. The stability of a direct lift machine, I believe never has been worked out numerically.

NOT ESPECIALLY SAFE

"From the point of view of structural safety the helicopter is likely to present grave difficulties. The aeroplane depends for its support upon a system of planes, which except for small movements of the control surfaces are fixed. In the helicopter the equivalent of the plane structure is dependent upon a number of bearings and working joints, which will certainly increase the difficulty of making a safe structure that is reasonably light.

"It will no doubt be argued that there are peculiar advantages that might be gained in war from a machine capable of hovering, but if this is so it is suggested in all seriousness that a balloon or an airship is a far more promising method of obtaining the result. It is likely to cost less and to be safer. The object of air travel is to get from place to place and it seems highly unlikely that the helicopter type of machine will ever afford a useful means of doing this."

Don't delay fighting constipation with BRAN that is ALL BRAN!

When constipation flashes its signals of sickness into your eyes and cheeks; into your breath, your brain and your appetite, it is absolutely necessary that you head it off! Toxic poisoning stands close by; Bright's disease and other dangerous diseases await their turn!

The remedy that nature offers is the simplest and most effective—Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, which is ALL BRAN! And it is ALL BRAN! It is ALL BRAN you need when you start to fight constipation. You can't afford to delay a minute and you can't afford to use half-way measures with foods that contain a percentage of bran! Your physician will recommend Kellogg's Bran because it is not only effective, but because it is delicious. Why—you will like its nut-like flavor, which adds so much to any food with which it is served.

Be certain to eat Kellogg's Bran regularly—at least two tablespoons daily; in chronic cases with each meal. Results will prove astounding. Remember that Kellogg's Bran is nature's own regulator, which operates in nature's way—which is the best way!

Eat Kellogg's Bran as a cereal, sprinkled on other hot or cold cereals, or make it up into the best of muffins, pancakes, raisin bread, cookies, macaroons. Kellogg recipes are printed on each package. Let the children eat Kellogg's Bran. It is wonderfully beneficial. It will improve their health just as it will really and truly make over men and women. The value of Kellogg's Bran cannot be overestimated. Sold universally by grocers.

Unicycle and Model

Professor E. J. Christie of Marion, Iowa, is the inventor of a unicycle, which, if his expectations are realized may revolutionize methods of transportation. The unicycle is built upon gyroscopic principles and is expected to attain a speed of 250 miles an hour. The wheel is 14 feet high and the gyroscopes on each side weigh 500 pounds. The power, furnished by a 250 horsepower gasoline engine, is transmitted by chain drive. Professor Christie was formerly President of Garfield University, Wichita, Kas., and has devoted his time in recent years to perfecting his invention.

BAYLIFFS WILL OPEN SEASON APRIL 22

HORSE BACK RIDING BECOMING POPULAR; WHY NOT CLUB?

GOLF BUG NOW BUZZING BUSILY IN XENIA

BAYLIFFS TO OPEN APRIL 22

Things are beginning to look up around the Washington Street ball park, where Roy Bayliff's aggregation of semi-pro stars will cavort during the coming baseball season.

With the opening date set for less than a month away, things are moving along swiftly to prepare the old yard for the lid-prying festivities.

Manager Bayliff has booked the Hamilton Movers for the initial encounter of the season. This team has been together for the last four seasons and is coming to Xenia with an unblemished record April 22 to help the locals crack open the summer's diamond sport.

In preparation for the afternoon's activities, Manager Bayliff is dressing up the old sand lot with promises that it will be one of the snappiest parks in these parts. A new grandstand is being erected and the old stands and bleachers repaired, so that the seating arrangements will be increased 50 per cent. The infield is being smoothed and rolled and the gardens will be dressed up to aid the fielders to better handle ground balls.

There is plenty of room to spare in the Bayliff yard. Even the toughest appleknocker in the circuit would find it almost impossible to smack the horsehide out of the grounds and with the gardens polished up, the outfielders can feel safe in going back for any kind of a try on a high ball or a lengthy smite. Due to the position of the park, the sun does not bother the team in the field, and this is a big point in favor of the Washington Street yard.

Advance notices allege that the Hamilton Movers will prove to be no gang of set-ups for the local pastimers, especially for an opening event. The youngsters and veterans that Bayliff is gathering together to play under his banner this year will have a tough assignment on their hands in tangling bats with the much-touted visitors, and if they come away with a victory, fans can rest assured they will be able to take care of themselves the rest of the season.

The admission to all games this year will be 35 cents according to announcement made by Manager Bayliff. The question of arbitrators has not yet been settled. Lawrence Rachford, the peer of local indicator men, may draw the assignment while it is possible that Ancil Stephens may don the mask and breast protector at least part of the time.

RIDING GETTING POPULAR

There is every indication that the sport of horse back riding has a hold on Xenia people that will not likely be shaken off.

The popularity of the sport is sweeping the country and this city has only been bitten by the bug in the same proportion with cities all over the country.

The inauguration of the riding schools has placed the sport within the reach of everybody. Formerly it was necessary to own a stable of mounts in order to follow this pastime, but on the rental basis now, anyone can enjoy this sport.

Enthusiasts of the bridle path say that horseback riding is one of the most satisfactory forms of exercise. It brings the rider into the open and furnishes a relaxation of the muscles that can be attained in but few sports. Adherents of other lines of sport endeavor might dispute this comment, but it is nevertheless true that the sport is recommended largely for its physical value.

With the increasing popularity of the sport, the establishment of a riding club or of stables at the Xenia Country Club might be a popular move this summer. A number of Xenia people own their own mounts, while others have been taking advantage of the sport by renting the horses from conductors of riding schools. The result is that there has been a demand for good-gaited saddle horses and school managers and instructors are supplying their stables with excellent horse flesh for the enthusiasts.

The establishment of a riding school would serve to further popularize the sport and increase the number of its followers.

CHESS PLAYER TO MEET

Cleveland, March 29.—Frank J. Marshall, American chess champion, and Edward Lasker, contender for his title, will play two games of their match for the title and a stake of $5,000 at the city club here. Secretary Francis T. Hayes announced today. The games will be played April 16 and 18.

Three games of the match have already been played in New York, Lasker winning two, while the third was drawn. Marshall, who was away off form in his play, writes that he has entirely recovered and expects to give a good account of himself.

GOLF BUG IS BUZZING.

The busy little golf bug, aroused from his state of dormancy by the approach of spring, is buzzing busily in the ears of local enthusiasts.

Xenia Country Club members maintain that that organization will be stronger than ever this year. The club is financially clear and in a position to make necessary improvements

this summer that will further popularize the club as the mecca for many Xenians.

An official opening of the club season has not been announced, but golf bugs need no better inducement than favorable weather to draw them to the links.

With this sort of weather now in the offing, the fans are getting restless, and it is promised that business and offices will be deserted soon by the exodus to the course.

Mrs. Minnie Sanders

Mrs. Minnie Sanders, the oldest of five children in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Philip P. Zachman, deceased, was born at Grayville, Ill., May 22, 1856, and died February 20, 1923, 5:15 P. M., at the age of 66 years, 9 months and 29 days.

Her early childhood was spent at Grayville, Ill., and at the age of 10, moved with her parents to Cincinnati, Ohio, where she resided until 1879, when she united in marriage on Thanksgiving Day to Samuel E. Sanders.

She lived with her husband on a farm one and one-half miles southwest of Jamestown. To this happy union two children were born, George G. Sanders and Florence Elizabeth.

After residing here for 22 years moved on a farm near Cedarville until 1920, when they moved to Jamestown. The husband died January 1, 1921.

During her early married life she affiliated membership with the Methodist Episcopal Church at Jamestown. She was a member of both Home and Foreign Missionary Societies. She was an active member of the Eastern Star Chapter of Jamestown, since moving to this city. Here she met and made many new friends, and was a very reliable, worthy member.

Those surviving to mourn the loss of a loving mother and sister, are

George G. Sanders, of Jamestown, and Mrs. Walter C. Fields, of near Cedarville, the only children. The sisters are Mrs. Emsley Cummings, of Jamestown, and Mrs. Elvira Clark, of Cincinnati, Ohio; brothers, Messrs. Thomas and Clarence Zachman, of Cincinnati; nephew, Eugene, Lesley and Earl Zachman, and Archibald Smith; one niece, Miss Dorothy Zachman; also one foster-daughter, Mrs. Glen Laura, of Dayton.

She took sick Thursday, February 15, with a light attack of grip, which developed into plural pneumonia. Her two children provided excellent care and remained faithfully at her bedside throughout her illness. As she grew weaker, she realized the time of her going was not far away.

Being of a quiet and patient disposition, she was loved by all her children, relatives, a host of friends and neighbors.

But she has crossed the river. She is with th angels now.

FRECKLES

March Worst Month for This Trouble—How to Remove Easily

There's a reason why nearly everybody freckles in March, but happily there is also a remedy for these ugly blemishes, and no one need stay freckled.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength from your druggist and apply a little of it night and morning and in a few days you should see that even worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the light ones have vanished entirely. Now is the time to rid yourself of freckles, for if not removed now they stay all Summer and spoil an otherwise beautiful complexion. Your money back if Othine fails.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

Loosen Up That Cold With Musterole

Have Musterole handy when a cold starts. It has all of the advantages of grandmother's mustard plaster WITHOUT the blister. You just apply it with the fingers. First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then comes a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Made of pure oil of mustard and other simple ingredients, Musterole is recommended by many nurses and doctors. Try Musterole for bronchitis, sore throat, stiff neck, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, croup, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back or joints, sore muscles, sprains, bruises, chilblains, frostbitten feet, colds of the chest. It may prevent pneumonia and "flu." 35c and 65c, jars and tubes.

DOCTORS WANTED TO OPERATE

Mrs. Quillon Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her from an Operation

Muskegon, Michigan.—"After doctoring for eight or nine years with different physicians without any relief at all, they said at last that medicine would not reach my case and I should have an operation. I had heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and often saw it advertised in different papers where some women had suffered just as I did and got well and strong again by taking the Vegetable Compound. I decided to see what it would do for me, and before I had finished the fourth bottle I was much better, the weakness stopped and the severe pains in my sides left me. I am now much stronger and do my own work and work in the factory besides. I am still taking the Vegetable Compound and give it all the praise."—Mrs. NELLIE QUILLON, 17 Morris St., Muskegon, Mich.

Women should heed such warning symptoms as bearing-down pains and weakness, for they indicate some female trouble, and a persistent and faithful use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will seldom fail to help.

The following described real estate to-wit:

Situated in the City of Xenia, County of Greene and State of Ohio, and Being in the City of Xenia and part of Survey No. 2243 and fronting on King Street, beginning at a point in the west line of King Street and running thence with the South line of the said lot N. 80 East 20

DELIVERY OF MAIL IN XENIA CURTAILED AFTER APRIL 1 AS FUNDS FAIL

Because of a shortage in funds in the Post Office Department at Washington, mail delivery service in Xenia, for a period of three months' from April 1 to July 1, will be curtailed, it was announced at the Xenia Post Office Thursday.

Delivery to residences will be reduced from two to one a day, while the night collection of mail, now between 6:45 and 7:45 o'clock, will for the period named be discontinued, under the ruling sent out by the Post Office Department. The last possible carrier collection in the afternoon cannot be made later than 4 p. m., after that time persons desiring mail dispatched without delay will be obliged to take it to the postoffice after 3 p. m.

While an effort will be made to maintain the three deliveries daily to business section of the city, it is said that mails may prove so heavy that it may be necessary to cut this to two deliveries.

The morning collection of mail, now made between 7 and 8 o'clock daily except Sundays, by an auxiliary carrier, will for the time being be made by regular carriers, who will do this work before reporting to the post office for their initial trips.

This will mean a delay of 15 to 20 minutes daily in the first delivery of mail.

City delivery service is now performed by seven regular carriers, and two auxiliary carriers. The latter averaging full time about five days out each week. Under the national order received by Postmaster Rice, service by these two auxiliary carriers will for three months be discontinued. Under the order each carrier is peremptorily prohibited from making any other time.

The Xenia post office receives an average of 500 parcels per day. The business is so heavy that the parcel post carrier cannot carry the full load, the remainder being distributed among the six remaining carriers. The parcel post carrier's average is about 200 per day with a mileage of from 16 to 20 miles daily. So regular city delivery is limited to six carriers.

The Post Office Department has run short of funds. This is the reason for this drastic and, it is claimed, unprecedented order. In other words the appropriation made by Congress has proved insufficient to meet the demands of the service and no additional money will be available until the first of July. The condition is decidedly anomalous, it is said for the reason that the unique situation has been brought about by an increase of postal business averaging about 40 per cent the country over.

This increase has made such a drain on appropriations that the fund for auxiliary help and overtime has been virtually exhausted, the Postmaster General is not authorized to create a deficit, the only remedy is a special session of Congress to provide for the needs of the department for the ensuing three months. It is understood, inasmuch as Congressional action does not appear imminent the curtailment of service all the country has been ordered.

New York City, it is said, is already down to one delivery per day in sections and other offices even in the largest cities will be compelled to follow this action.

There will be no reduction of window service at the Xenia Post Office although in many cities it has already been arranged to consolidate windows and to close money order windows at 4 p. m.

The local office made a strenuous effort to get an allowance for auxiliary carrier service, pointing out that the city needs one additional carrier because of increase in population and abnormally heavy mails and that it is going to be exceedingly difficult to give the officers service that has characterized city delivery with the forced reduced by two carriers and over time prohibited.

Thursday was received that the granting of the allowance requested had been rejected and that any expenditure over that allowed under the order issued would have to be paid out of the Postmaster's personal funds. Other postmasters received similar orders.

The cut in carrier force is, necessitated despite the fact that the stamp paper receipts of the Xenia post office for January and February this year show an increase of 22 per cent over the receipts for the same months last year.

ESCAPES SERIOUS INJURY WHEN RUN DOWN BY HORSES

Warren Newcomer, Central High School student miraculously escaped possible death or serious injury about four o'clock, Wednesday afternoon when he was run down by a team of runaway horses at Market and White-man streets while riding a bicycle.

The team, hitched to a large farm wagon, was standing in front of the parsonage of the First Baptist Church where furniture, belonging to the Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Brown was being unloaded. It is believed that the horses became frightened at the noise of automobiles in front of Central High School. Children leaving Central School escaped injuring in the accident.

The time for our annual fight with the moth has arrived. The good housekeeper finds satisfaction in being thorough to a point of "fussiness" in exterminating this pest.

Moths in wool clothing must be killed as follows: Clean the garment out of doors with either gasoline or benzine (both fluids are extremely inflammable and cannot be used near heat or flame). Brushing on the under side of coat-collars, in seams, pockets and other creases where moth eggs are most liable to be deposited is especially important. The value of long sunning after cleaning cannot be over-emphasized. When you feel that you have conquered the moth (indeed it is wise to brush and sun clothes even when no traces of moths are found), the next step is to wrap the garment in newspapers and seal the folded edges of the paper tightly with strips of gummed paper. Hang such bundles, by string in a light place during the Summer months.

Many housekeepers notice moths and buffalo bugs in their rugs as the warmer weather approaches. To get rid of these, clean the rugs well by the usual process—beating out of doors—then spray them on both sides with gasoline. Air them thoroughly after this spraying, before returning them to their place on the floor.

A badly infested carpet, however, needs the following treatment: Go over the entire surface with a hot iron, pressing the rug or carpet over a cloth wrung out of cold water but not too dry. The resulting formation of steam will kill both the eggs and larvae of the moths and buffalo bugs.

Moths in closets are killed as follows: Remove everything in the closet, clean floor and walls with a whisk broom, and then spray kerosene into all cracks in floor and walls around baseboards and ends of shelves. Bags containing dried lavender are a valuable repellent; just hang these tiny bags on the closet hooks and leave them there the year round.

To keep moths from getting into the felt in your piano, hang small bags containing cedar chips or camphor balls inside the piano case.

The woman who lives near a big city fur store, or department store, which has a cold storage plant for furs, is indeed lucky. It costs little to store your furs in such a plant for the summer—and what a lot of trouble and anxiety it saves the housekeeper! Otherwise she must brush and sun her furs at home and store them in newspaper packages as directed above for clothing.

FAILED TO GO OVER THE TOP.

Berlin, March 29.—Only 170,000,000 gold marks, or approximately 75 per cent of the $500,000,000 internal loan, has been subscribed, according to an "unofficial report" in the National Gazette. The subscriptions for the loan closed Saturday. Neither the Reichsbank nor the finance ministry have given out any figures. Banking circles intimate that pressure is being brought to bear on the banks to subscribe enough to make the $500,000,000.

A PURITAN WIFE

By Jane Phelps

CHAPTER XLV.

Dick asked them to remain for lunch, but Ned refused, saying:

"I want to go back and get to work at once. Come, Grace!"

Languidly Grace got up, and as she passed Dick said:

"Remember I go in three days." Her tone a reminder. Ann wondered of what. What had Dick promised her?

"Goodbye, Ann. Remember what I told you! Learn to look at life less seriously. You'll have a lot better time!"

The girl's assurance was amazing. After they left Dick talked enthusiastically about the seedlings, his delight at getting them at a price. He praised Ann for her help, was more like himself than before the incident that had so pained Ann.

"He loves his ranch more than he loves her," she said to herself, "perhaps more than he loves baby and me. But we're not jealous of that. It's our home too."

In three days Grace was going! "Thank God!" Ann said aloud as she sat on the porch shaded by the bouganvillea vine, little Jack beside her. "Perhaps, baby, I will be happy again with just you and daddy—"

Bessie telephoned that Ned insisted upon giving a party the night before Grace left. She added:

"Don't come if you don't want to, Ann, I shall understand."

But Dick insisted upon accepting the invitation. He said:

"We don't have a great deal of pleasure, Ann, and Grace was right, it doesn't do to take life too seriously. We won't stay late, on account of Jack." They would have to take him.

"I wish you would not insist upon going, Dick," Ann said.

"Don't be silly! Of course we'll go. I have to go to the store tomorrow, I need several things, so make your list." Then: "You don't have to go to the party if you don't want to. I shall go, however."

"Oh, I'll go with you," Ann answered, fearful she knew not of what should she let him go alone.

The next morning Dick started for the general store, a list of necessities in his pocket. About noon Bessie came over. Grace had gone with him he going out of his way to get her. That was what she meant by her reminder when she spoke of going. He had promised to take her with him.

Ann tried to comfort herself by thinking it would keep him away from the bad liquor he drank, that she was going away soon, etc. But as the day wore slowly away, she was gripped again by jealousy, and unaccustomed tears fell as she busied herself about the house.

It was 10 o'clock when she heard

"You know Grace is going day after tomorrow. It would have seemed petty to refuse her a good time."

"She drank with you at dinner?" "Yes, and she's a good sport! Carries it better than I do."

"So I observed. She helped you into the house."

"How did she get home—walk? It would be just like her," Dick chuckled.

"I told her to take the car. Li will bring it back."

That was all. Ann said no word of censure, Dick of regret. But all day Ann had the feeling that she should have protested, should have shown her disapproval.

Tomorrow—A Paen Of Praise.

COURT DECISION PARTLY MODIFIED BY LATER RULING

Decision of the Greene County Common Pleas Court is partially affirmed and partially modified by the Court of Appeals in a decision handed down Thursday in the case of J. Q. A. Baker, plaintiff in error, against R. W. Hough, and others, defendants in error.

The Appellate Court decision modifies the judgment of the lower court in regard to a division line under contest between properties of the principals, holding that the line should be fixed parallel to the line fixed by the lower court by far enough west so that the present barn owned by Baker, on its present location, will stand entirely on Baker's lot.

The Appellate Court holds it inequitable and unjust to Baker to adjust the disputed line so as to interfere with Baker's possession of the barn or to require him to remove it, after it had been constructed without objection. In all other respects the judgment of the Court of Common Pleas was affirmed.

Marcus Shoup of this city was attorney for the plaintiff in error and W. A. Paxson, of Jamestown, was attorney for the defendants in error.

Sexton of St. Stephen's Was Actually Afraid To Cross the Street

HEALTH IS COMPLETELY RESTORED BY DR. THACHER'S LIVER & BLOOD SYRUP

The many friends of Henry Stees, for thirty years the worthy Sexton of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Harrisburg, will be gratified to learn of his complete recovery to health as a result of taking Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup, the celebrated medicine that is accomplishing such remarkable results everywhere.

Mr. Stees, who lives at 122 Cranberry Ave., Harrisburg, Pa., is a retired member of Hope Fire Company No. 2, and is held in the highest esteem by all who know him.

For the past five or six years Mr. Stees has been in a deplorable state of health, verging upon a nervous breakdown, and when such people as he come out and publicly testify that Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup has made them well and strong again, the unusual merit of this tonic can no longer be doubted. But let Mr. Stees tell his story in his own words: "For six years," says Mr. Stees, "I have had a tired, dragging feeling that made me unhappy and miserable. I was steadily losing in weight and strength, had no appetite and suffered constantly from constipation. Often when walking I would see spots before my eyes and would become so dizzy I was afraid to cross the street for fear I would be run over; and I was so nervous at times

I would shake like a leaf and just couldn't control myself.

"My tongue was always coated, I had awful headaches and my breath was so offensive I dodged my friends to keep them from knowing it."

"I was induced to try Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup by what I had heard about it, and a few doses made me feel so much better that I kept it up until I had taken three bottles. My appetite is now just fine I eat heartily of anything I want, those headaches are all gone, I never feel dizzy and nervous like I did before and I am getting stronger and better every day. In fact I feel better today than I have in a long time and I know it was Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup that relieved my troubles."

Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup is sold by leading druggists in Xenia it is featured by Sayre & Hemphill and the Sohn Drug Store. Adv

NOTED EUROPEAN DOCTORS TELL HOW PILES CAN BE DRIED UP

So That They Disappear; Hadensa Treatment Now Used by Leading Hospitals in the Greatest Medical Center of the World.

New York, N. Y.—To combat the painful, nerve-shattering hemorrhoids (piles), both bleeding and blind, there is nothing like the Hadensa treatment according to the great Dr. Stettner, of Catherine Hospital, Stuttgart, Germany.

In an exclusive interview for readers of this paper, Dr. Stettner says, "I have used Hadensa in different cases of piles, some quite aggravated, and the results have always been that the patients are very much relieved from their pains and discomforts. I especially wish to mention one particular case. An elderly man was suffering with piles in such an advanced stage that it was impossible to use a suppository. However, with the small spout of the Hadensa tube it was easy to apply the salve to the troublesome part, and thus relieve our patient from his pains."

Commenting on this, Dr. Hans B. Pfeleiderer, a specialist of Knittlingen, Germany, says, "I, too, found the most remarkable and satisfactory results."

FROM THE FIRST TUBE OF HADENSA USED.

Hadensa often makes operations unnecessary because its ingredients actually dry up the piles so that they fall out! Some of the world's greatest hospitals and clinics prescribe the Hadensa treatment exclusively, in the treatment of piles.

Hadensa mentioned above can be had by prescription from your physicians, or direct from such good druggists as Sayre and Hemphill. Guaranteed safe to use. Money refunded by U. S. Agents, Rockfall and Co., New York, in case Hadensa does not prove entirely satisfactory in your own case. Adv
